Arkansas Resort Cut Off By Fire And Flood

Meager Information From Hot Springs Indicates Loss Of Life

SEVENTEEN DEAD IN TEXAS

At Least 100 Injured By Tornado Which Struck Colorado City

BULLETIN
Colorado City, Texas.—The death list was increased to twenty one today by the finding of four additional victims of the tornado which swept Mitchell County early yesterday.

Hot Springs, Ark.—Hot Springs at noon Tuesday was endeavoring to extricate itself from debris and ruin left by the flood, fire and wind which Monday night wrecked the business district of that city with damage to property which is expected to run into the millions.

Several persons are reported to have not been verified. It is not expected, however, that the death list will exceed three or four persons.

Memphis, Tenn.—Reports of heavy loss of life in Hot Springs, Ark., were still unconfirmed early Tuesday after floods which descended in torrents from the mountain slopes and fire which followed the water's wreckage had effected undetermined destruction and cut off that resort from the rest of the world except for meager information which was received here at intervals throughout the night and early morning.

Persistent rumors brought the report that at least 17 persons were victims of the raging waters or to the flames but no bodies had been discovered when the latest word reached Memphis some time after the flood had subsided and the flames had been brought under control.

All wires, both telephone and telegraph were out of order Monday night and such information as came out of the stricken city was brought by trainmen who had left Hot Springs before the floods had reached their peak or by informal flashes which came over temporarily restored lines of communication.

BUILDINGS CRUSHED IN
A cloudburst believed to have fallen in the mountains shortly before dusk, poured rapidly into the valley between the hills at whose foot the metropolis and was seen a dangerous current rushing through its principal streets. Stores and houses were crushed in, automobiles with their human occupants were whirled away and at least a half hundred negro dwellings in the southern section of the town were borne off on the crest of the plunging stream.

A fire quickly burst out and before the firemen, impeded by the high water, could bring it under control almost an entire city block had been destroyed and reports declared that a number of persons were killed in the flames. The Marquette and Grand Rapids hotels were among the prominent buildings destroyed.

HUNDREDS ARE HURT
Colorado City, Texas.—Seventeen dead and ten persons seriously injured, about 100 with injuries the seriousness of which are undetermined so far and from 400 to 500 homeless, complete the check up Tuesday, 24 hours after the tornado which swept through Mitchell Co.

The path of the storm varied from two miles to a quarter of a mile in width and about thirty miles long. Scarcely a house was left intact. The twister came in the hour before dawn. Some houses were carried through the air and replaced on the ground with occupants merely shaken from their beds. Other houses were cut from their foundations and the walls and ceilings came away, leaving families suddenly awakened gazing skyward but none the worse.

WILLARD AND FIRPO SIGNED FOR BATTLE

By Associated Press
New York.—Luis Firpo, of the Argentine and Jess Willard, former world's heavyweight champion, Tuesday signed articles to box for Tex Rickard in a match to be held in the vicinity of New York not later than July 7. The winner of this contest will be matched against Jack Dempsey for the world's title.

BLAINE FRIENDS IN SENATE WOULD CHANGE HIS BILL

Administration Leaders Believe Amendments Would Insure Passage

By Associated Press
Madison.—With Governor Blaine's general income tax bill about to come to a vote in the senate, administration leaders of the upper house are expressing themselves as favorable to amendment of the measure if passage can be assured by this course.

Senator Henry Huber, chairman of the joint committee on finance and administration, said that he is willing to stand for amendments providing they do not destroy the purpose of the bill. He expresses himself as of the opinion that the Blaine bill should be saved from defeat by changing its provisions sufficiently to gather the needed 17 votes for advancement.

At least eight amendments will face the governor's bill when it is reached as a special order of business in the senate Wednesday morning. Acceptance of any of several of these proposed changes would alter the proposal so materially that opposition to it will not be recognized as the Blaine bill.

This fact, several administration senators say, should not stop the senate from voting for amendments if amendment will save the bill from defeat.

The opposition to the administration expresses itself as of the opinion that the proposed changes are so drastic and the difference of opinion in the senate be marked that the governor's bill finally will be killed outright.

NEW PUTS DAMPER ON FAKE COMPANIES

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington.—Wisconsin people have been defrauded to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars in worthless oil stocks. It was learned Tuesday in connection with the series of fraud orders postmaster General New is daily issuing against Texas oil concerns.

New is determined to protect the American public against the get-rich-quick schemes.

Postmaster General New, who as a member of the United States senate, advocated passage of federal blue sky laws, has found the machinery of the postoffice department adequate for dealing with alleged swindlers where the fraud has been carried on by advertising and transactions through the United States mails. This machinery supplies the feature of protection which the state has been powerless to give, legislation in the past having been loath to penalize publishers for circulating fraudulent oil company advertisements so long as the mails were open to similar advertisements in papers published outside the state. Tuesday in connection with the series of fraud orders postmaster General New is daily issuing against Texas oil concerns.

LAKE HARBOR BOOSTERS PERFECT ORGANIZATION

By Associated Press
Milwaukee.—With the purpose of developing the commercial possibilities of the Great Lakes and preventing further diversion of water to the Chicago drainage canal, the Great Lakes Harbor association came into being here Monday. The association was organized at a meeting of the executive committee of the Lake Levels conference in Manitowish, several weeks ago.

The membership of the organization was decided, shall consist of municipalities, commercial bodies and individuals of the cities located on and contiguous to the American and Canadian shores of the Great Lakes, interested in harbor and port development.

DIVORCES INCREASING SHOWN BY STATISTICS

By Associated Press
Milwaukee, Wis.—For every ten marriage licenses taken out in Milwaukee county since Jan. 1, four divorce actions were started, according to compilations made from official records here. In more than 70 per cent of the divorces, suits were started by women. "Cruel and inhuman treatment" is alleged in three out of every five complaints, the records show.

NO MORE FLOGGING IN FLORIDA PRISON CAMPS

By Associated Press
Tallahassee, Fla.—Final passage of a bill to ban corporal punishment of convicts in the state was effected Tuesday when the senate by a vote of 15 to 13 refused to reconsider its action Monday in banning the whip.

The action of the senate meant that a bill requiring the state officials to eliminate whipping from their calendar of prescribed punishments now goes to the governor.

Senate Kills Bill To Close Armories

One Man Civil Service Commission Bill Jolted In Senate—Assembly Opposes Election Law Survey

By Associated Press
Madison.—The Polakowski bill abolishing all state armories and turning the property over to cities for school purposes, was killed by the senate without a record vote.

Socialist members who backed the measure and obtained its passage in the assembly were absent when the bill was reached in the senate. There was no defense offered the proposal and it was quickly disposed of by the upper house.

Passage of this measure would have cut off all state aid to armories and would have resulted in transfer of property estimated to be worth $350,000 to the cities of the state.

JOLT DALL BILL
The Dall bill backed by Governor Blaine which would create a one-man civil service commission with increased salary, met trouble in the senate Tuesday when the body adopted a subcommittee, eliminating the one-man commission feature and cutting the salary of the present examiner from $3,500 annually to $3,000. As finally engrossed, the bill merely reduced the salary of one state employee.

The assembly passed the bill after Speaker Dahl had reputedly threatened to ask that it be killed. The governor openly advocated the proposal in a recent message to the legislature.

By its action the senate recorded its favor for the present three man commission with its ex-officio members, and for a reduced salary for the chief examiner.

KILL SURVEY BILL
The Kleiser joint resolution providing for the appointment of a joint interim legislative committee to make a survey of election laws and make recommendations on revision thereof to the 1923 legislature was killed by the assembly Tuesday without a record vote.

The assembly also killed the state affairs committee bill fixing attorney's fees in foreclosure actions according to the amount of the mortgage. There was considerable debate, the lawyer members being the chief participants.

CONTEMPLATE NEW INDEMNITY OFFER

By Associated Press
Berlin.—The allied replies to the reparations offer of May 2, have contained in official and Reichstag circles a belief that the only path now open to Germany may well be the dispatch of a brief formal note to the creditor powers suggesting that inasmuch as the Reich is apparently unable to make concrete and precise proposals she unreservedly consents to a commission of international economists to determine her obligations.

WET VICTORY IN EAST NO VITAL BLOW TO DRY

Prohibition Scores 20 To 1 Victory In Last Legislative Season

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—Enough time has elapsed for the prohibition authorities here to size up to their own satisfaction, at least, the effect of what has been termed "New York's secession from the Union" through the repeal of the Mullan-Gage law.

Official Washington takes for granted that Governor "Al" Smith, Democrat, will sign the repeal measure, and that the maneuvers of delay are merely outward gestures of deliberation for the wet strength which brought about the Democratic victory in the Empire state last autumn. The feeling is that the bill is as good as repealed now.

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes says that people in the prohibition fight must learn to look at things broadly, and that the score of victories and defeats in the legislative season just closed is about 20 to 1 in favor of prohibition. Twenty-one states either revised or amended their local laws with respect to prohibition enforcement and all but New York put teeth in existing laws.

NEVER BEEN CONQUERED
New York never has been considered by prohibition forces as conquered territory anyhow. Mr. Haynes says he got relatively little cooperation from the New York state officials and police before the Mullan-Gage repeal controversy started and that from a practical standpoint, therefore, the federal government will have to continue to do the bulk of the job in enforcing the Volstead act, the provisions of which still stand irrespective of the wiping out of state statutes.

But the federal machinery has been, and is, inadequate to handle prohibition enforcement in the most populous state of the Union. In fact the sponsors of the eighteenth amendment never dreamed that prohibition could be enforced by the federal government without the cooperation of the states. That's why they wrote the words "concurrent jurisdiction" in the eighteenth amendment itself. For all practical purposes therefore, New York will continue to be as wet a spot as there is in America unless the fight in the next legislature turns the tide in the other direction.

OFFICIALS DISCOURAGED
To the extent that New York has reversed the wheels of prohibition progress the repeal of the state law is a source of discouragement to officials from President Harding down. For a brief day in New York might spread to other states.

The wet group of the east today comprises New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland and New Jersey. It would take a huge army to enforce federal statutes in those states, but the government of Washington isn't going to attempt any heroic measures, depending on the sober sense of the people to build up the sentiment essential to the uniform observance of any federal law.

A. A. L. CONVENTION ORGANIZERS NAMED

Committees Begin Preparations For State Meeting Here June 16

Committees which will have charge of arrangements for the annual convention of the Wisconsin federation of the A. A. L. have been appointed at a meeting of officials of Appleton branch No. 1 Monday evening. The state meeting will be held here Saturday, June 16, and about 500 delegates are expected.

William H. Zuehlke will be chairman of the language committee and will be assisted by Albert Voelckers and John F. Behnke. The banquet program will be arranged by G. D. Ziegler and Dr. G. C. Hoyer. Louis Freide will be in charge of the business sessions, and William Bellinger and Earl Kraemer of the overnight housing delegation.

MINNEAPOLIS REJECTS AMENDMENT TO CHARTER

Minneapolis, Minn.—The proposed charter amendment to redistrict the city's wards was defeated and George E. Leach, incumbent and W. A. Campbell were nominated for Mayor at Monday's municipal primary election according to virtually complete unofficial returns Friday.

MAJOR ROBERT A. ALLEN OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY IS ONE OF THE CAPTIVES HELD BY CHINESE BANDITS WHO WILL BE EXECUTED UNLESS FOREIGN DIPLOMATS IN THE CHINESE CAPITAL GUARANTEE BY TONIGHT THAT THE PEKING GOVERNMENT WILL PERMIT THE BRIGANDS TO REEXAMINE THE ARMY AND THAT THEY WILL NOT BE HARMED.

CAPTURE YOUTH WHO SHOT POLLEY

Young Man Says He Drank Too Much 'Moon' In Explaining Shooting

Oshkosh.—John Kleveno, aged 18, who made a murderous assault upon Henry D. Polley, welfare and employment man for the Laine Lumber Co., Sunday evening, was apprehended by his brother, Henry Kleveno, Jr., Monday evening and turned over to the police. The capture of Kleveno, it was more of a surrender than capture—transpired within 24 hours after the shooting. The young man was on the way to the home of his parents when he was seen by his brother and was taken in an automobile to the police station. He had been in hiding since the affair. His stories of his movements conflict in some particulars. To the police he said he slept in a barn on a farm near Park Sunday night. At another time he said he slept in the woods near that place, which is a few miles south west of Oshkosh. When asked why he shot Polley he said he guessed he had been "drinking too much moon." While he answered all the questions put to him he appeared to be somewhat dazed and abstracted.

The condition of Mr. Polley Tuesday morning was highly favorable at the hospital and physicians believe he has an excellent chance to recover.

SOVIETS FIRM ON EASTERN POLICY

Moscow.—The Russian note issued Monday in reply to the British memorandum shows a firm tone with regard to the Russian policy in the east.

"The accusations," it says, "give weight to the theory that it is the opinion of the British government that the Russian republic should have no policy of its own at all in the east, but should everywhere support British aspirations. The Russian government has taken no obligation on itself."

30 IN MADISON FOR LIONS CONVENTION

About 30 members of the Lions club left in automobiles Tuesday morning for Madison to attend the district Lions convention in that city Tuesday and Wednesday. The members were decked out in their costumes consisting of capes and caps in the Lion colors, blue and gold. Dr. J. A. Holmes, district governor, will be one of the speakers at the convention.

Demand Pledge Brigands Will Not Be Harmed

High Prices Do Not Stop Rails' Building Policy

Foreign Diplomats Must Offer Guarantees To Save Captives' Lives

AMERICANS ENDANGERED

BULLETIN
Washington.—A demand that the Chinese government take immediate steps to guard the principal government railways, especially the Tientsin-Pukow and the Peking-Hankow lines, has been made by the diplomatic corps in Peking. A commission of foreign military officers has been created to further protect life and property. The commission will investigate measures taken by the Peking government to protect the Chinese railways from a recurrence of outrages similar to that at Lincheng.

Shanghai.—Unless the foreign diplomatic representatives in China guarantee by Tuesday night that the Chinese government will carry out all the terms fixed by the Chinese bandits in the Shantung hills, the foreign captives will be killed. Father William Lenders, an aged priest, who conferred with the bandit chieftain Sunday reported to the American consul at Lincheng today.

Father Lenders described the chieftain called Wang, as "a young man, clean, well dressed wearing eye glasses." The priest persuaded Wang to extend for one day the limit of his ultimatum which had been fixed at two days from Sunday. Wang told him that the pledges of Chinese officials meant nothing to the bandits, and hence the word of the foreign diplomats must be given.

Commander Wang drafted his terms—which did not demand money but required that the Peking government restore all the bandits to the status of regular soldiers, with a pledge that they suffer no reprisals—and Father Lenders arriving in Lincheng after innumerable hardships, presented Wang's letter to the American consul today.

Teaching the bandit village Saturday night, Father Lenders felt that he was told that he could interview the chieftain at 8 o'clock the next morning.

TALKED TO HEADQUARTERS
"I slept well in the bandit village," he wrote "and the next morning was ready to confront the bandit chieftain. I was a messenger and a messenger came telling me that the second in command was coming then. He arrived with an armed guard. He ordered me to march with him climbing we went over the mountain top and arrived at another smaller village, where he told me were the headquarters."

"I was taken into a house. Then a young man—clean, well dressed, wearing eye glasses—appeared. The others showed him every mark of respect, and I then learned that he was called Wang. The commander in chief, throughout our interview he was quiet-toned, cordial, friendly, grim.

"Taking a seat at my left, he explained that his men were not bandits, but had been deprived of their livelihoods when they were dismissed as soldiers. He said that they were foreigners to force Peking to enroll them. He emphasized that they did not want money in return for the captives.

"I listened to everything he said, and promised everything he felt I could promise." Wang was well built and he provided for the slaughter of his captives unless his demands were accepted. The demands were that troops be withdrawn, with the assurance given that there would be no reprisals in any form, and guarantees that the bandits be re-enrolled in the military forces.

TALKS TO CAPTAIN
"I talked with him for more than an hour, but was unable to soften or modify the demands, which included guarantees from the foreign diplomats, since the bandits were unwilling to accept any pledges from Chinese officials."

"Then I begged to see the captives. First they brought in Leon Friedman. He looked well, and sat down and talked to me for a quarter of an hour. He then called Eddy Elias, since he talks German. Elias was well built, calm, self-possessed. Next the younger Elias was carried in because his right foot was infected and badly swollen, the condition of it looking serious. When he asked for assistance, the bandits told him a doctor was coming to see Christian. Missions said his foot pained him.

PATROLMAN CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Hibbing, Minn.—Charges of second degree manslaughter have been brought against Wm. Gardner, Hibbing patrolman, who last week fatally shot George Krebich, a minor. Gardner will be given a preliminary hearing next Wednesday in municipal court here.

Gardner shot and killed Krebich when the latter, according to the patrolman's defense, resisted arrest for speeding in his motorcar.

GILLISPIE GETS WORKHOUSE TERM FOR BOOTLEGGING

Judge Confirms Promise To Liquor Venders By 40-Day Sentence

Gordon Gillispie, proprietor of a soft drink establishment at 1410 Second st., twice arrested in one year as a result of liquor law charges, his plea of not guilty to bootlegging Monday before Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court. He had been in jail on bail and the trial was to take place on Wednesday.

Judge Spencer, not relinquishing his announced determination to sentence all liquor law violators to jail, instead of imposing fines, turned Gillispie over to Superintendent John Wagner of the workhouse to be placed at hard labor for 40 days.

The prisoner was apprehended in a mad last week by a local fire squad headed by Chief George T. Prun. The police found 35 quarts of moonshine whiskey in an cave trough. Gillispie was arraigned in court nearly a year ago on the same charge, but his case afterward was dismissed for lack of sufficient evidence.

HOME BURNS DOWN NEAR NEW LONDON

A house owned by William Schroeder of New London and located on the highway between that city and Northport, was completely destroyed by fire about 9 o'clock Monday evening.

The building was occupied by Charles Worsnik. The family was preparing to move to Neenah, but the household furniture was consumed. The loss of the house and furniture was covered by insurance.

New London fire department was summoned to the fire but could do little.

MISS MORGAN RECEIVES WATCH AT BEDSIDE PARTY

On the anniversary of her birthday, May 12, Miss Carrie E. Morgan, city superintendent of schools, was presented with a white gold watch set with sapphires by the Appleton teachers. The watch was a token of the teachers' appreciation of Miss Morgan's work in the city. Several close friends of Miss Morgan provided a birthday spread for her in the hospital on the evening of her birthday. Miss Morgan has been confined to St. Elizabeth hospital for two months as the result of a fall on an icy sidewalk.

MAESCH JUNIOR RECITAL TO TAKE PLACE TONIGHT

La Yahn Maesch, organist of Lawrence Conservatory of Music will be presented in a junior recital at 8:20 Tuesday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel. Mr. Maesch is from the studio of Prof. Frank Taber and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maesch, Atlantist. He will be assisted by Miss Helen Taft, contralto, and Miss Isabel Wilcox, soprano.

THROGS SEE MOVIE FOR LEGION BENEFIT

"A Man Without a Country," the movie which Orce Johnston post of the American Legion gave at Elite theatre as a benefit picture, packed the theatre in capacity at the last show in the afternoon and at the two shows in the evening. No final check has been made on the sale of tickets at this time, but judging from the number of tickets turned in, the picture was financially successful.

MAINS WILL GIVE NEW H. S. WATER

Fond du Lac Contractor Starts Trenching For Main Extensions

Anthony Tomusun, Fond du Lac contractor, has started work on Appleton's 1923 program of water main extension. His first job tackled Monday was several thousand feet of trenching on State and Mason st.

A 12-inch main is to be installed on these streets following up the 12-inch main extending from Sixth and Walnut streets to College and State st.

This main connects with the 16-inch main leading from the waterworks plant to the standpipe at Walnut st.

The 12-inch main will provide adequate water facilities for the new west end junior high school which is to be erected at State and Mason st. shortly. A recommendation will probably be made to the board of education to connect the school with the large main by means of a 4-inch main and also install a hydrant on the grounds so as to provide the best of fire protection.

Appleton is alert to the value of many hydrants. Milwaukee is the only city in Wisconsin which has more hydrants per amount of mains than Appleton.

INVITE STATE BAR CONVENTION HERE

County Bar Association Will File Request For 1924 Gathering

Outagamie County Bar association at its luncheon in the French room of Conway hotel Monday noon decided to extend an invitation to the state association to hold its 1924 convention in Appleton.

The 1923 convention is to be held at Janesville next month and quite a number of Appleton attorneys and their wives are planning to attend. In the event the convention comes to Appleton it will mean the entertainment of about 1,000 visitors.

NEXT BAND CONCERT TO BE OUTDOOR ONE

There was not a large audience at the concert given Monday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel by 121st Field Artillery band. The program was credibly presented under the direction of Percy M. Fullinwider but the audience was disappointed because the clarinet soloists did not appear. The numbers given presented a variety and proved the skill of the players.

The next concert will be held in one of the parks and will be the first one of the summer series.

Plan All-Day Program At County School Meet

Now that rural school examinations are over, all minds are turned to the first annual county rural school field day at Appleton, on Friday of this week.

The forenoon program, consisting of spelling, arithmetic and declamatory contests, will be held in the court house, starting promptly at 10 o'clock. All contestants must be there on time in order that the morning program may be completed by noon, according to Miss Florence S. Jenkins, county superintendent of schools.

After the morning program basket dinner will be served at City park if the weather is favorable. Visitors will find the park at the corner of Franklin and Drew sts., or two blocks north of the armory.

Dinner over, all will go to Lawrence athletic field, corner of Meade and Whinebago sts. where the athletic contests will be held. The events include 100-yard and 220-yard dashes and 440-yard and 880-yard runs as well as a standing broad jump and a running broad jump.

Medals will be presented to each contestant winning first place in any event. A silver cup will be awarded by the Post-Crescent to the winner of the greatest number of individual points. The large cup, also donated by the Post-Crescent, will go to the school having the greatest number of points.

Nine points will be given in each event, five for first place, three for second place and one for third place.

The town field days, participated in by the various districts of each town have already been held, and only the persons winning first place in any of the events will take part in the field day in Appleton.

I SPIED TODAY

ANOTHER REAR WHEEL GONE

It was just five minutes of six Saturday evening when I happened to be watching a Ford coupe 138.840, back out of a driveway on Franklin st. between Oneida and Morrison. A small truck was coming east on Franklin at a fairly good rate. I had hardly thought, "How will that truck driver stop soon enough to avoid striking the coupe?" when I saw the rear left wheel of the coupe splinter and fall apart. The driver tried to go backward and not until he got out to investigate did he realize what had happened to his coupe. The truck driver stopped and came back. Just then the church bells started to ring, so I could not hear the ensuing argument.

MOTHER HUNTS FOOD, TOO

For some time, I have been interested in watching a pair of robins who built a nest two weeks ago in a crotch of a maple tree in a First ward resident's yard. During the snow storm of last Tuesday, the mother robin never left her nest for a minute and sat there with her nest all covered with snow. The interesting thing to me has been that during the last few days before the eggs were hatched and now there are tiny baby birds the father robin is proving himself something of a nurse girl. Not only does he bring food for his offspring, but quite overcomes the bird traditions by sitting on the nest himself while the mate is getting needed exercise and also hunting for food. At times, he seems to be a little loath about sitting on the nest; he will perch on a nearby branch or sit on the edge of the nest. Finally, if friend wife does not hurry back, his paternal solicitude overcomes masculine dignity and he snuggles on the nest. I suspect his mate is a suffragette wife.

HURT IN RUNAWAY

The driver of a J. Utman delivery wagon was thrown from his seat and dragged several feet on State st near Second-ave at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Just before the horses reached Second-ave, they became excited and jerked the front wheels and drivers seat off the wagon. The driver landed on his back but hung onto the reins while the horses dragged him several feet. Finally the horses ran one on each side of a tree and were stopped. The man in the road was badly hurt and I sent for the police ambulance. Another woman caught one of the horses and several men carried the man to the curbing to wait for the ambulance.

Public Invited To See Sewing, Wood Work And Auto Classes At Work

Parents and friends of Appleton high school students are being invited to the high school from 7 to 9 o'clock Wednesday evening to an "at home" of the home economics and manual arts departments. The "at home" will take place of a more formal exhibit of the work which the students have done during the year in these two departments.

Classes in sewing, wood work and auto mechanics will be conducted during the visiting hours so that the parents may get an idea of just how the work is carried on. The finished work of the students will be displayed in all the departments and the teachers will be present to meet the parents.

1,000 Chicks Are Mailed To Nearby Farms

The population of Appleton postoffice was swelled Tuesday to more than 1,000. For several weeks the office has served as an immigration center for hundreds of day-old chicks. Tuesday a large colony of chicks was received. There were 1,000 in the shipment and all were bound for rural stations except 50 which were shipped to a Kimberly resident. One farmer received 600 chicks. The baby chicks expressed their disapproval vigorously of the wet and chilly weather but offered to remain in the locality, if good treatment were forthcoming. But what they seemed to want most was a mother.

Bicycle Damaged

60 PULPWOOD CARS ARRIVING DAILY

Mills Still Receiving Raw Material In Large Amounts By Rail

The shipment of pulpwood to Fox river valley mills is still in progress and about 60 carloads are arriving daily at Appleton Junction. From there the wood is distributed among the mills of Appleton, Kimberly, Combined Locks and Kaukauna. When the season was at its height the daily receipts at Appleton Junction were approximately 150 carloads.

Most of the wood now arriving comes from the vicinity of Duluth and much of it is Canadian. The mills of the valley are well stocked up and there is no danger of a shortage for a year to come. With the exception of occasional cars the pulpwood shipping season previous years closed the latter part of April.

CHILDREN BROADCAST

The schoolboy-radio fan now has his hands not only in receiving, but in broadcasting.

He's broadcasting his own wit and wisdom. This innovation in radio has been brought about through the co-operation of broadcasting station WHN, at Ridgewood, N. Y., and a local school. Through it, a school children's radio forum is held daily.

And it's proving to be a popular feature of WHN's schedule. It consists in the personal reading of their own compositions by picked children of the school. Not only young radio fans, but boys and girls who prove their ability, are chosen to lecture other children through the microphone.

The result, teachers of the Ridgewood school say, has been an increasing diligence on the part of the pupils in the school. For what child does not care to be thrilled by the experience of broadening his or her own composition to thousands of other children for miles and miles around.

The broadcasting station reports that thousands of children who have listened in have sent notes praising this part of WHN's program.

WHN, by the way, has another unique stunt. Amateur night! Every Thursday evening at 10:30, an hour and a half is devoted to the varied program of amateur talent. The winners of these contests are determined by the WHN audience whose votes are recorded by letters and telephone calls to the station.

The popularity of the contests may be judged by the fact that the average number of votes is reported to be more than 3,000.

Writers Of Books On Etiquette Are Drawing Hosts Of New Readers

Library Has Hundred Reservations Ahead For Books On This Subject—Public Seems To Realize It Ill Breeding

"Is it true the United States is the rudest nation on earth? Are American people common? Can the average American take his place in wellbred circles and be a credit to his nation?" These are questions recently raised by several prominent and cultured Americans among them Gertrude Atherton, well known writer and novelist, and Emily Post, whose recent book on social usage is one of the most widely read.

Such questions and such books have aroused the reading public until at the present time probably the most popular book on the market is "Etiquette" by Mrs. Post. At Appleton public library there are nearly a hundred reservations on file on the two copies of the book. At Conkey's book store nearly a hundred copies have been sold since last October. Such a sale is to be unusual for expensive nonfiction books.

SEEM AROUSED

The great cry that American people are not well-mannered has so aroused the public that nearly every class and type of individual has become interested in a knowledge of true politeness. Older people are calling for the book, whether they feel confident of their knowledge of a general standard of good manners or merely a desire to correct habits which should have been learned from babyhood. The young people, high school and college students are probably the ones who are seeking the book most eagerly, perhaps from a real desire to learn if they have been unfortunately allowed to neglect such knowledge or from a motive of curiosity.

Such little habits as sitting in the house with one's hat on, chewing gum violently in the society of others or at an entertainment or concert, or pushing forward in a crowd without regard to others, mark persons as sadly lacking in even the basic principles of polite behavior. These acts mark the average American on the streets of every city as vulgar or common. Such a person finds himself unable to take his place among those who admire intelligent, charming personalities.

Breeding gives poise while inferiority induces confusion of mind and loss of temper and a person uncertain of himself in the society of well-mannered persons is never at ease. According to Mrs. Post, a woman who is poor but well bred is happy in her sense of infinite superiority to the plutocrats that snub her. They do not even wound her pride.

TRAVELERS SEE NEED

To substantiate the fact that the United States is the rudest nation among all civilized ones, travelers and tourists declare it is nothing short of misery to take long trips in the United States. They say the average person has no sense of what is proper. If it is too hot to wear a coat to dinner in a dining car is left off and the wearer takes it for granted the weather is an adequate excuse for anything.

Gertrude Atherton declares the people so ruthlessly portrayed in "Babbalanza" by Sinclair Lewis are identical with the awful people one sees, hears and is disgusted by when traveling across the continent. This indeed is a poor impression for foreigners to get on their first trip to the United States, she says.

With the two copies of "Etiquette" at the public library circulating so rapidly and the ones at the book stores selling each day Appleton persons have apparently made new resolutions. People seem to observe more carefully importance of what they do or say and how they do or say it. Real charm of manners and an air of good breeding which cannot be taken from an individual at the fancy of another, they are finding.

STREET CAR MEN GET RAISE IN PAY

An increase in wages, aggregating about 10 per cent, was awarded by the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. to its street railway motor men and conductors, effective May 16. It was announced by A. K. Ellis, general manager of the company. The increase was voluntary on the company's part.

About 35 motormen and conductors are affected by the order.

LIGHTLESS CAR HITS PEDESTRIAN

Joseph Hoier, a Greenville farmer, was knocked down, and injured about 11 o'clock Sunday night while walking on the concrete highway near Heine's corner, Greenville. Mr. and Mrs. Hoier were walking together near the edge of the pavement when they were struck from the rear by a motorist who was driving without lights.

The driver did not stop but his identity was learned and Mr. Hoier contemplates action against him.

Mr. Hoier was knocked down and was unconscious for about 15 minutes. He was badly bruised about the body. His wife, who was walking on the extreme edge of the concrete, was not touched.

A system of handling parcel post packages separately according to size, as introduced recently in Milwaukee, has been in use in the local post office for some time. Small sized packages, especially such as are smaller than a shoe box are handled with the regular mails. Special provisions are made for the prompt delivery of perishables.

Four Years Since Boys Came Home

Wednesday, May 16, is the fourth anniversary of the return of Company G which served during the World war as Company A. One Hundred Fiftieth machine gun battalion of the Forty-Second division.

The boys came direct from Camp Grant and arrived in Appleton shortly after 6 o'clock in the evening. They were met at College Ave crossing of the Chicago and Northwestern road and marched through an almost solid mass of people as far as the armory.

Relatives and friends of the boys from the city and county waited in the rain for their coming for more than an hour and gave them the most demonstrative kind of reception. The scene at the armory when the soldiers broke ranks and greeted their loved ones was one never to be forgotten.

ON THE SCREEN

MANY STARS WITH BARTHELMESS IN "FURY"

"Fury," Richard Barthelmess' new production has brought about the screen reunion of the star and Dorothy Gish, who fell in love with the part of the leading lady, which was written in the hope she could be induced to play it.

Mr. Barthelmess is supported by a notable cast, including the star of the legitimate stage, Tyrone Power; Barry Macollum, who was brought from England to play the half-witted lad in "John Ferguson"; Harry Flakemore, who will be remembered as having played the negro porter for three seasons in "The Traveling Salesman" and considered to be one of the topnotch comedians of the speaking stage. "Fury" is a story of the sea in which for a time brute strength triumphs. To get the proper atmosphere a four-masted schooner was especially chartered and was at sea for three weeks. The company roughed it in true sailor fashion, sleeping in the fore-castle and in hammocks. The result is a picture which has earned the praise of D. W. Griffith as one of the greatest numbers ever produced and a document of life. "Fury," a First National attraction will be seen at the Elite theatre today, Wednesday and Thursday.

THE QUESTION OF GOLD AGAIN

Secretary of Commerce Hoover's address to delegates of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at their convention in New York city was probably intended to illustrate to business men generally the close connection between monetary gold supply and prices. Incidentally, it was probably meant to be a hint to them that they must, in their own interest, encourage exportation of gold to Europe. Also there was the implication that gold will have to be lent to Europe in order to stabilize our own prosperity.

Our gold reserve prior to the war approximated $850,000,000. In 1920 it was $2,000,000,000, while at present it totals $3,000,000,000. Easily double what we need. Mr. Hoover declared that the excess in the present reserve would have to flow back to Europe; otherwise, it would cause inflation of currency and credit, followed by inflation of costs and prices, resulting in a financial and commercial breakdown.

His point is easy to understand. The more money there is, the higher prices are; that is, money is cheap and goods are dear. Less money buys more goods, as being scarce, or relatively scarce, it is worth more, having a greater purchasing power.

Gold is the foundation or base of the monetary system. A large supply of it facilitates monetary expansion and increases the supply of currency. Similarly it expands credit. Consequently, there is impairment of credit. Increase the supply of money and the quantity of credit causes advances in prices and in costs. In brief, there results a combination of inflated money, inflated credit and inflated costs and prices.

Return of the excess gold reserve to Europe will enlarge the money supply of Europe and revive prosperity. Naturally prices and costs will rise there. Meanwhile our prices and costs should decline, and there would be a level, or a movement toward a level, which would stimulate international trade.

But there is a fundamental principle respecting the money supply, trade activity and prices which is generally overlooked by proponents of the gold theory. This principle is that business is demand and supply, and that money is only the medium of exchange. More business produces still more business, and more business forces prices and costs upward. This principle must always be considered in connection with the money supply and gold reserve. We are approaching this condition in the United States today. Inflation is proceeding at such a rapid rate that there threatens to be a severe reaction before the year is over. If we had less gold in the country we would have less of a foundation on which to support inflation. The accumulation of a top-heavy gold reserve in America is not solely because of inflation, but it bears an important relation to it and until conditions in Europe are so improved as to bring about a removal of much of this gold to the nations which are in need of it there it will continue to be a source of weakness and danger to the United States.

RECLAMATION PROJECTS

A report from the department of the interior on its work of reclamation in the arid sections of the western states presents an outline of the vastness of our country which emphasizes the richness of it, a wealth that for generations will not be brought to its fullest development. The water storage capacity of irrigation, project reservoirs has now reached 10,000,000 acre feet, or enough to cover the entire state of Connecticut with water. But the vastness of the undertaking is made more comprehensive in the figures applying to the work. Here is what this reservoir work means:

The construction of reclamation projects representing a storage capacity of 10,000,000 acre feet of water has included more than 12,500 miles of canals, ditches and drains; tunnels with an aggregate length of more than 27 miles; masonry, earth, rock-fill and crib dams with a total volume of over 14,000,000 cubic yards; more than 8,000 bridges, 560 miles of pipe line, 130 miles of flumes, 1,000 miles of wagon road, 83 miles of railroad, 3,000 of telephone lines, 970 miles of transmission lines, and 1,450 buildings, such as offices, residences, power plants, pumping stations, barns and store houses. The excavation of rock and earth amounts to about 200,000,000 cubic yards, equivalent to an excavation one mile on a side and nearly 200 feet deep. Excavation during 1922 exceeded 1,000,000 cubic yards a month.

The reclamation service has used more than 3,000,000 barrels of cement and has manufactured more than 4,500,600 barrels of cement and sand cement. It has mined 140,000 tons of coal. The irrigation works incidentally develop approximately 64,000 horse power.

It is illuminating, in the face of diagrams and budgets which show our expense for military purposes, to see what one activity of one federal department means in constructive development.

A NATIONAL INDICTIONMENT

The greatest national tax that is collected in the United States, according to the National Fire Protection association, is imposed by fire. No less than $1,000 a minute is the tribute which this ogre demands and, through the carelessness of a wasteful public, is able to collect.

Annual fire losses, members of the Association declare, amount to more than $500,000,000 each year, and these same fires take a toll of 15,000 human lives—the money value of which to society can never accurately be estimated. The conclusion of the report contains the most tragic note of the whole document—eighty per cent of this loss is preventable.

Reduced to its simplest terms, this statement of the National Fire Protection association means that greater care on the part of the people of the United States would result in a property saving of $400,000,000 annually, and a saving in human life of 12,000 persons. No greater indictment of carelessness can be imagined.

This is not a matter which can be handled by legislation. People cannot be made careful by law. Penalties may be inflicted for carelessness, but they neither bring the dead to life nor restore destroyed property nor greatly increase the care which others exert. The matter can only be handled through individual action. When each citizen takes this appalling loss to heart and resolves that no property will be destroyed and no lives sacrificed through carelessness of his own, then will America see an appreciable diminution in the huge fire loss which now curses the nation.

THE CONNECTICUT LAW

The state of Connecticut has added nothing to its prestige by the passage of the law imposing a fine of $100 on any person, firm, or corporation that may display a clock set in accordance with the daylight saving time. The law is yet to be tested in the courts and there is said to be good reason to believe that it will be set aside as an unwarranted invasion of the rights of the individual.

In view of the benefit which daylight saving bestows upon the urban residents of Connecticut, and Connecticut is a state of many populous cities, this law is obviously framed to meet the wishes of the minority of the state's citizens. Daylight saving is opposed mainly by the rural residents and it is far from just that this section of the population of an industrial state should dictate the time under which a majority of the people are to live.

Those who do not approve daylight saving—the conservation advantages of which were made so apparent during the war—are selfish when they ask that an entire state be denied its benefits in order that they may be spared the small inconveniences of rearranging their working schedules. Time means more to the urban dweller than to the rural resident and for that reason the wishes of the former class should have recognition.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

TUBERCULOSIS

There is a certain notion seriously entertained by many victims of tuberculosis that the first rule for recovery is "Keep away from doctors and medicines, get plenty of good food and fresh air, and go west." Just a word to them about that. Not my word, but the word of a man who has won the battle with tuberculosis in his own home:

"If it were not so tragic it would be amusing, the manner in which I first decided to take the cure at home. At that time I was still able to attend to my business, and having learned in a general way that fresh air, good food and rest would cure tuberculosis, I continued at my business. Because I did not work so hard and spent more time at home, I was under the impression that I fulfilled the requirements for rest. I crowded into my stomach all it would hold, with extra supplies of milk and eggs, not forgetting cod liver oil; and I thought that the foods I consumed would somehow heal the lungs. It is a wonder that this man did finally win his battle. He evidently started knowing some things which ain't so. But luck was with him. He continues:

"From this method of treating tuberculosis the inevitable happened—a turn for the worse, higher fever, increased cough, etc. It was no longer a question of whether I could afford to neglect my business; my physical condition made attention to business out of the question."

"That wasn't so lucky in itself, but it brought good luck in the form of the First Essential for Recovery from Tuberculosis which the victor describes as follows:

"At this time I secured the services of a physician who—ordered me to bed and kept me there from the early part of March until the end of May."

The services of a physician, the first essential for recovery from tuberculosis, whether the patient is receiving any medicine or not. Expert guidance in everything pertaining to the fight.

I have quoted these passages from an article by J. E. Stocker published in the June, 1921, issue of the Journal of Outdoor Life, 370 Seventh-ave, New York City—"How I Won the Battle With Tuberculosis in My Own Home."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Phenolphthalein

Please tell me whether the long continued use of phenolphthalein is an irritant to the kidneys.—B. S. B.

Answer—No.

The Arms in Sleep

Correct position of the arms while one is asleep. Does holding them or one of them near the head interfere with the circulation?—O. A.

Answer—Whatever position one finds natural and comfortable. In some persons the circulation in the arms is somewhat obstructed when the arms are held over the head.

Getting Balled Up

Kindly do the public a great favor by publishing the symptoms of consumption. I have never yet heard anyone able to talk on the subject without getting balled up.—F. S. M.

Answers—Doctors should not tell the symptoms of diseases; that is something for the patient to tell the doctor.

Of Course

Please tell me how I can put on a little weight. I am 31 years old, 66 inches high and I weigh only 103. At the time of my marriage I weighed 136.—Mrs. P. O. K.

Answer—Of course, otherwise the chances of landing a man would have been pretty slim. Send a stamped envelope bearing your address and I will forward plans and specifications for remodeling and rebuilding the old frame to make it something like what F. H. married.

Beverage For Children

What was the drink you suggested for young children in place of cocoa?—Mrs. J. W.

Answer—Pure, fresh milk.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Tuesday, May 17, 1898

Dr. G. A. Ritchie was called to Grand Rapids on business.

The Rev. John J. Irving was slightly improved, but his condition was still critical.

Mrs. C. E. Wolcott sold a lot on Richmond street to the Rev. John J. Irving for $200.

Bids for the new Stephenson school hall were opened and were higher than was anticipated. For this reason the letting of the contract was temporarily delayed. Hoffman & Hoffman of Appleton were the lowest bidders, $22,950.

The corner stone of the German Methodist church at the corner of Hancock and Superior streets was to be laid the following Sunday.

Members of the common council visited Stevens Point for the purpose of inspecting a new steam roller.

Judge John Goodland and Court Reporter F. S. Bradford left for Shawano, where circuit court was to be in session for two weeks.

A meeting was to be held at the armory the following evening for the purpose of organizing a new military company.

A burglar visited W. J. Smith's residence at an early hour in the morning and secured $12 in cash.

The body of Harry Burbank, who died at Cedarburg was brought to Appleton for interment.

A Havana dispatch said a small naval boat had been blown up at Cienfuegos resulting in the loss of 17 lives. The nationality was not known, but they were supposed to be Americans.

TEN YEARS AGO

Tuesday, May 12, 1913

Mrs. Robert McDermid of Hortonville visited Appleton friends.

Application for a marriage license was made to the county clerk by Oscar Loos of Ellington and Miss Augusta Witt of Appleton.

Edward G. Hansen purchased the Cozy restaurant on Grand street, owned, conducted for several years by Claude Snider.

Miss Lora Trackway tendered her resignation as teacher of piano and elementary theory and history at Lawrence conservatory of music.

Miss Lillian Bartz was awarded the $20 gold medal offered by the Remington Typewriter company to the Appleton high school student of the commercial department displaying the highest standard of general efficiency.

Cornelius Riggles and Glen Midam were injured while riding their bicycles on Prospect in a collision with an automobile.

C. W. Starrett, mayor of Plymouth and a leading cheese dealer, filed a petition in bankruptcy scheduled about $45,000 liabilities and $25,000 assets.

Mayor Edward J. Newman died of his first year grocery to Ray Newman and was also to become associated in business with "Mike" Stenbauer, his brother-in-law.

The Misses Martha E. Schumann and May Werner, who conducted a boarding house on Franklin street, were about to leave for Idlewild where they were to have charge of the 1913 summer resort.

U. S. May Be In League By Next Election

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY

Washington—"Do not take it for granted that the League of Nations will be the outstanding issue in next year's presidential campaign. It may be out of the way by that time."

This significant statement, made by a nationally prominent Democrat, represents a political view heretofore overlooked in the wave of speculation now centering on the 1924 presidential race.

The man responsible for it refuses to allow his name to be used. Anonymous, however, he makes this analysis of the situation:

"Three things are worrying the Republicans: First, the League of Nations; second, what will Mr. Wilson do? Third, what about McAdoo? 'The Republicans are doing all the worrying. They are doing all the talking and speculating about the Democratic candidate and the issues: the Democratic candidates mentioned have all been mentioned by Republicans."

CECIL STARTS TALK

"Lord Robert Cecil's visit, coming on the heels of Attorney General Daugherty's prediction that President Harding would be renominated by the Republicans, has focused attention on the League of Nations. Now President Harding indicates he is ready to put through the International Court of Justice, a move which many describe as getting into the league through the back door. And, as a shock to Republicans, along comes Senator Pepper, Republican, talking League of Nations."

"So why take it for granted that the league will remain an issue a year from next November? We may be in it before then—in the league, one way or another. In the Senate there are now 42 votes for it. Only 22 more are needed, which may be easily obtained for the international court at least."

"The big issue next year more likely will be the Republican record—the tariff and the foreign policy, the failures of Hughes and of Hoover. Can anyone doubt that Hoover really has been a tremendous disappointment—going into office with an enormous following, which is now practically entirely alienated?"

"Candidates? Democrats aren't talking about them. The Republicans are putting them up for us—Senator Underwood, for example."

"Former Justice Clarke, who resigned to lead the League of Nations fight, is talked of. His health alone probably would count him out."

G. O. P. IS WORRIED

"Republicans are wondering whether Mr. Wilson is going to take an active interest. That is for him to say. They are worried more about McAdoo than about Cox, the 1920 candidate."

"There is talk of Governor Smith of New York, Senator Ralston of Indiana, Senator Edwards of New Jersey. Some talk of Bryan, others have mentioned Bernard Baruch, war industries head, and everywhere there is talk of Henry Ford."

"Tammany in New York is against Al Smith. They are against Baruch, too, or anybody he is for. Besides, Smith is a Catholic and Baruch is a Jew. Ralston's claim to fame is that he beat Beveridge, a famous Republican, in a Republican state in a Republican year. The dries are against Edwards because he is wet. As for Ford—nobody knows what to think of him."

SEEN, HEARD and IMAGINED

--that's all there is to life

An Indiana father has named his fifth child "Enough." Number six will most likely be "Superfluous."

—NASHVILLE TENNESSEAN.

Will Number seven be "Unnecessary?"

THE POWER OF ADVERTISING

What's your prognostication? Will anyone or will everyone "guess" the names of the 35 advertisers in the baseball double-page spread contest? Here's a real test of the power of slogan advertising in fixing the names of merchants and dealers in the minds of the buying public. Our humble prediction is that scores will come through with 100% correct returns.

The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent, Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. How many of our dead of the World war are still unidentified? R. M. D.

A. The War Department says that according to the latest statistics there are 1,676 unknown American dead in France and 105 unidentified. "Unidentified" refers to those who are carried on the records of the Adjutant General's Office as deceased for whom the Graves Registration Division has no record of graves.

Q. Which side of a belt is run next to a pulley, the hair side of inside of the belt? E. A. M.

A. The hair or grain side of leather is run next to the pulley since it has a greater coefficient of friction than the flesh side.

Q. How long have fox terriers been bred? W. C. H.

A. The earliest authentic mention of the terrier is by Dr. Caius who wrote a treatise on the dog before 1572. He enumerated among the British dogs "the terrier" describing it as a hunter of the fox and badger. This breed was what is now called the fox terrier. Such dogs were bred to run the fox to earth, but are now used as vermin destroyers about stables and as house pets.

Q. What is ringsword of the beard? M. K.

A. This is another name for

Q. What is the area of protection of a lightning rod? A. C. J.

A. There is no way of determining the area of protection of a lightning rod. In modern practice, the rod is regarded as protecting only the object upon which it is placed.

Q. What is meant by the expression found on the financial page of papers—Bar Silver (Foreign) 68, Bar Silver (Domestic) 99 1/2? G. C. B.

A. The Bar Silver (Foreign) is the price quoted in New York on all silver other than that which has been produced and refined entirely in the United States and has never entered any foreign market. The two quotations were made necessary because of the operation of the special act of Congress known as the Pittman Act. Under authority of this act a large amount of silver was sold during the war to Great Britain to be shipped to India. This silver is now being repurchased by the United States Government, of purely domestic silver that is American produced and refined. The same act makes it mandatory upon the United States government to pay one dollar per ounce for all such silver offered at the United States mint up to a total of the amount of silver sold during the war. This figure has nearly been reached and when such purchases of the United States have been completed the special domestic silver quotation will no doubt be discontinued.

Q. What plants were grafted together to produce grapefruit? G. H.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that the grapefruit belongs to the same family as the lemon and orange, but represents a distinct botanical species. It is possible that you have in mind a hybrid form of the grapefruit—the tangelo—recently developed from a cross between the tangerine orange and the grapefruit.

Q. Where is the boundary line between the states on the south side of the Ohio River and those on the north side? H. E. A.

A. In 1783 Virginia ceded to the United States the territory lying "Northwest of the river Ohio." The Supreme Court of the United States has held that under the grant Virginia retained title to low water mark on the north side of the river. This low water mark, therefore, is the boundary line between states bordering on the north side of the river and those bordering on the south side of the river.

Whole Cast To Draw Smiles In H. S. Play

"A Pair of Sixes" which the senior class of Appleton high school will present at Appleton theater on Saturday evening is one of the funniest plays which has been undertaken by students here. Although the cast includes but a small number of students, each part is so important and so full of possibilities for laughs, that it is predicted that there will be no dull moments in the play.

Miss Katharine Pratt and Miss Agnes Sherman have the leading female roles, but one of the funniest parts in the play is that of Oodles, the English maid of all work, played by Miss Katherine Small. She will appear only in the second and third acts, but every minute while she is on the stage is filled with laughter. Tickets are being sold at the high school for the play and the reservation of seats will begin on Wednesday morning.

Sigrid Onegin

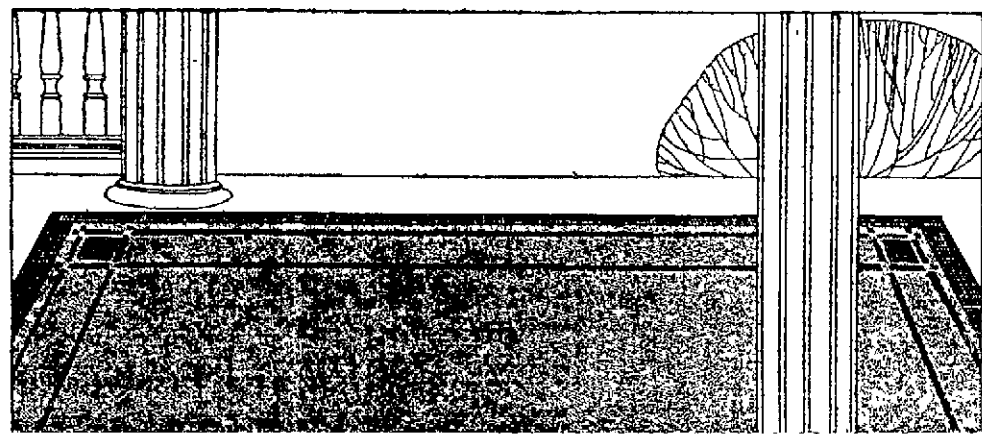

Contralto Metropolitan Opera Co.

15048—"Sapphic Ode" . . . Brahms
(Sapphic Ode)

"Auf Dem Kirchhofe" Brahms
(In the Churchyard)
(Sung in German)

Sigrid Onegin created a sensation as a new member of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Her voice has the glorious richness of tone looked for in great contraltos. Like other artists of the New Hall of Fame she selected Brunswick to immortalize her voice because of its faithful interpretation of the difficult tones, its clearness and brilliant interpretations. Mme. Onegin gives the two beautiful Brahms selections a rendition full of glowing color and rare loveliness of expression. Be sure and hear them.

New Brunswick Records are now issued every day. They can be played on any phonograph but best on The Brunswick.

The New Grass Rugs Are Very Attractive

The increasing demand for Grass Rugs has prompted manufacturers to produce some very pleasing effects in design and color.

Shiocton—A musical program will be given at the high school auditorium Wednesday evening.

A baseball team has been organized at the high school under the direction of Mr. Manley.

Services were held Sunday morning at the Congregational church in honor of Mothers day. In the afternoon a committee was sent to gather the annual offering for the year's work.

William Oaks, mail carrier on rural route 3, is the owner of a new touring car.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Volontine, born Tuesday, May 8, died Thursday, May 10.

Henry Langman left last week for Appleton where he has accepted a position with the Ullman sales stable. Mr. Langman held the offices of both marshal and assessor of the village of Shiocton which places have been filled by George Miller and Ferdinand Bratz, respectively. Mrs. Langman left Sunday for Appleton. Mr. and Mrs. Langman have made Shiocton their home for the past 25 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Williams were at Green Bay Friday to visit Mrs. Ina Hamlin who is a patient at Deaconess hospital. Mrs. Hamlin's progress toward recovery is slow.

Mr. and Mrs. Collie Booth and children of Iola spent Sunday with Shiocton relatives.

Miss Eula Mack, a student of Lawrence college, spent the weekend at her home here.

Miss Frucha of Two Rivers is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Kozelka. Mrs. Ray Teacock was a New London caller Friday.

Mrs. John Wagner received word Saturday of the sudden death of her father, G. A. Zuehlke, which occurred that morning at his home in Appleton. James McLaughlin left Monday for Illinois, where he expects to spend about ten days shearing sheep.

Misses Harriet Donaldson, and Eugene Paula, teachers in the New London schools, spent the weekend at the Donaldson home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Oaks are moving into town and will occupy the house recently vacated by Henry Langman.

Mr. Middleton returned Friday from Flint, Mich., where he spent the past two months shearing sheep.

Mrs. Sam Swenson, who spent the past week at the home of James McLaughlin, returned to her home at Manawa Saturday.

DANCE HALL CONTROL BY COUNTIES GRANTED

Madison—The Ridgeway senate bill granting county boards authority to regulate dance halls and places of amusement was enacted by the assembly Friday and sent to the governor. Assemblyman Kiesner, Milwaukee, Socialist, moved for non-concurrence, but his motion lost, 17 to 49.

PAPERMILL MAN ON C. OF C. BOARD

Appleton's Work At National Convention Brings Election Of Marcuse

The election of a man to represent the papermill interests on the board of directors of the Chamber of the United States was accomplished when Milton E. Marcuse of Richmond, Va. was elected. Hugh G. Corbett returned on Sunday from the national convention which he considers one of the most vital ever held. Appleton worked hard for the election of Mr. Marcuse.

The board of directors now includes: William T. Hines, Bridgeport, Conn.; Philip H. Gadsden, Philadelphia, Pa.; John W. Arrington, Greenville, S. C.; Frank Kell, Wichita Falls, Tex.; Vernon S. Tippet, Nashville, Tenn.; Max W. Babb, Milwaukee; T. Henry Foster, Ottumwa, Iowa; Dwight B. Heard, Phoenix, Ariz.; Everett G. Griggs, Tacoma, Wash.; Charles W. Lonsdale, Kansas City, Mo.; A. Lincoln Filene, Boston, Mass.; J. Brosseau, New York, N. Y.; Paul Shoup, San Francisco, Calif.; Harry A. Smith, Hartford, Conn.; and A. L. Humphrey, Pittsburg, Pa.

One of the most enjoyable events of the convention, according to Mr. Corbett was the trip to West Point where a special demonstration of military and athletic events was put on. The delegates numbered more than 4,000 of which more than 600 were women. They were entertained at the final performance at the Hippodrome which is to be torn down and the site used for a hotel building.

BUSSES WILL OPERATE TO STURGEON BAY AREA

Motorbus service will be maintained this summer between Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay connecting at Sturgeon Bay with the motor busses running into the bay resort country. The "Cherry Special," considered one of the finest motor coaches in this part of the state, will go into service May 15 and will make three daily trips from Green Bay. A sister coach of duplicate dimensions and appointments, will leave Sturgeon Bay for Green Bay on the same schedule.

HAPPY TRIP GIVES BOYS FOREST DATA

Visit To Door-co Gives Opportunity To Inspect Tress Reserve

Twenty tired but happy boys from the Second district schools arrived in Appleton at 6:22 Saturday evening after an exciting trip to Door-co Forest reserve where they made inspections of the reforestation work which is being done under the supervision of A. E. Doolittle. The boys left Appleton at 4 o'clock Friday in three cars and a truck. They arrived at Camp Goff outside of Sturgeon Bay after 8 o'clock and found that camping utensils of the cherry camp were not available to them so they had to eat in Sturgeon Bay restaurants.

The boys slept in one of the dormitories of the cherry pickers camp Friday night and were up early Saturday morning for a camp breakfast. They got an early start for the park and were met by Mr. Doolittle who showed them many of the forestation projects. The boys saw little trees which had been raised from seed like seedling cones. They saw others which were six years old, five feet tall and three or four inches through the trunk. Mr. Doolittle answered questions which the boys asked.

Observation towers made all the points of interest visible. The boys were given maps of the park which showed all the trails and paths. They returned to Camp Goff for dinner and reached Appleton in time for supper.

INCORPORATE NEW CANNING FACTORY

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state by the Big Wolf Kraut company of Shiocton which has incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing, canning and selling sauerkraut and other farm and garden produce. The capital stock is $25,000. G. H. Lonkey, David Flanagan and W. L. Schroeder are the incorporators.

PLANT NEW VINES NEXT TO WALLS OF Y. M. C. A.

Vines which grew along the sides of the Y. M. C. A. building have been transferred to the wire fence that encloses the tennis courts. Boston ivy will take their place next to the building, since it clings more readily and will not be blown down by the wind. Boston ivy now is growing at the front of the building.

Two of the tennis courts have been fitted up for the season. A portion of the third court is occupied by building material and will therefore be used for "barnyard golf."

Watchful Eye Of Scout Firemen Will Hunt Out Cleanup Week Ignorers

Annual Inspection Is In Progress To Detect Fire Hazards In Residence Districts—Followup To Be Made

After the cleanup and pickup comes the checkup. It is all a part of an "upward" movement to keep "up" Appleton's reputation for beauty and cleanliness.

For ten days Appleton residents have been concentrating upon rubbish. Inasmuch as rubbish is to some extent a fire hazard, the fire squads of the Appleton boy scouts will have an opportunity to observe how far every one has cooperated in the movement to keep the city clean, healthful, beautiful and free from fire hazards.

To escape the reprimanding eye of the youthful fire inspectors, there is only one alternative; rid the house, yard and outbuildings of all rubbish and place it in containers ready for hauling away by city employees on or after Wednesday.

A fire hazard checkup is made by the boy scout fire squads about three or four times a year. The next one will be sometime after cleanup week.

EACH HAS BADGE

Under the direction of Robert Currie, chief of the scout fire squads, the boys divide the city into sections. Each fire company takes two wards and each scout takes a certain number of blocks in the inspection tours. The scouts work under the guidance and supervision of Louis McGillan of the fire department.

Among the fire hazards looked for are piles of ashes against wooden buildings, oily rags, rubbish, paper and dry grass near buildings, defective chimneys and poorly located gasoline tanks. Reports are turned into boy scout headquarters and a complete report is made to the fire department.

Checkup is only a part of the training of the scout fire squads. They have a regular course of instruction in firefighting imparted them at the fire station. After Chief G. P. McGillan has recuperated from his illness, the scouts will be given fire drills and will probably make a fire run. They made a short run last year with a part of the apparatus and scaled the ladders at the fire station.

EACH HAS BADGE

The organization consists of more than 30 members and is patterned after the regular fire department and each member wears a badge. It is divided into three companies with a captain and lieutenants in charge of each. The officers, besides Chief Currie, are Capt. Kenneth Schweger, Capt. Boyd Schweger, Capt. John Schiebler, Lieut. Reid Winsey, Lieut. Sterling Schmalz, Lieut. Leslie Peavel and Lieut. Clarence Bohon, Capt.

Put On a Paint That Stays Put

Hold on a minute, and say this to yourself before you put another cent into paint. Say that it costs just as much to put on a poor paint as a good one. Generally more. A poor paint doesn't stay put. Doesn't, because you can't get out of anything what isn't in it. We have proven to our entire satisfaction that Lowe Brothers put stay-putness in every gallon of paint they make. Stay-put is just another way of saying it stands weather's wear and tear. Drop in and we will show you a color card and tell you some paint facts, which, have a notion you have never been told.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Valentine, born Tuesday, May 8, died Thursday, May 10.

Henry Langman left last week for Appleton where he has accepted a position with the Ullman sales stable. Mr. Langman held the offices of both marshal and assessor of the village of Shiocton which places have been filled by George Miller and Ferdinand Lutz, respectively. Mrs. Langman left Sunday for Appleton. Mr. and Mrs. Langman have made Shiocton their home for the past 25 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Williams were at Green Bay Friday to visit Mrs. Ina Hamlin who is a patient at Deaconess hospital. Mrs. Hamlin's progress toward recovery is slow.

Mr. and Mrs. Collio Booth and children of Iowa spent Sunday with Shiocton relatives.

Miss Enla Mack, a student of Lawrence college, spent the weekend at her home here.

Miss Pruchin of Two Rivers is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Kozelka.

Mrs. Ray Peacock was a New London caller Friday.

Mrs. John Wagner received word Saturday of the sudden death of her father, G. A. Zuchlik, which occurred that morning at his home in Appleton.

James McLaughlin left Monday for Illinois, where he expects to spend about ten days shearing sheep.

Misses Harriet Donaldson, and Eugene Paulis, teachers in the New London schools, spent the weekend at the Donaldson home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Oaks are moving into town and will occupy the house recently vacated by Henry Langman.

Mr. and Mrs. James McLaughlin and daughter Muriel spent Saturday and Sunday at Beaver visiting relatives.

Roy Middleton returned Friday from Flint, Mich. where he spent the past two months shearing sheep.

Mrs. Sam Swenson, who spent the past week at the home of James McLaughlin, returned to her home at Manawa Saturday.

PAPERMILL MAN ON C. OF C. BOARD

Appleton's Work At National Convention Brings Election Of Marcase

The election of a man to represent the papermill interests on the board of directors of the Chamber of the United States was accomplished when Milton E. Marcase of Richmond, Va., was elected. Hugh G. Corbett returned on Sunday from the national convention which he considers one of the most vital ever held. Appleton worked hard for the election of Mr. Marcase.

The board of directors now includes: William T. Hincks, Bridgeport, Conn.; Philip H. Gadsden, Philadelphia, Pa.; John W. Arrington, Greenville, S. C.; Frank K. W. White, Falls, Tex.; Vernon S. Tipper, Nashville, Tenn.; Max W. Bab, Milwaukee; T. Henry Foster, Ottumwa, Iowa; Dwight B. Heard, Phoenix, Ariz.; Everett G. Griggs, Tacoma, Wash.; Charles W. Lonsdale, Kansas City, Mo.; A. Lincoln Plene, Boston, Mass.; A. J. Bessan, New York, N. Y.; Paul Shoup, San Francisco, Calif.; Harry A. Smith, Hartford, Conn.; and A. L. Humphrey, Pittsburgh, Pa.

One of the most enjoyable events of the convention, according to Mr. Corbett was the trip to West Point where a special demonstration of military and athletic events was put on. The delegates numbered more than 4,000 of which more than 600 were women. They were entertained at the final performance at the Hippodrome which is to be torn down and the site used for a hotel building.

BUSSES WILL OPERATE TO STURGEON BAY AREA

Motorbus service will be maintained this summer between Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay connecting at Sturgeon Bay with the motor busses running into the bay resort country. The "Cherry Special," considered one of the finest motor coaches in this part of the state, will go into service May 15 and will make three daily trips from Green Bay. A sister coach of duplicate dimensions and appointments, will leave Sturgeon Bay for Green Bay on the same schedule.

HAPPY TRIP GIVES BOYS FOREST DATA

Visit To Door-co Gives Opportunity To Inspect Tress Reserve

Twenty tired but happy boys from the Second district schools arrived in Appleton at 6:22 Saturday evening after an exciting trip to Door-co Forest reserve where they made inspections of the reforestation work which is being done under the supervision of A. E. Doolittle. The boys left Appleton at 4 o'clock Friday in three cars and a truck. They arrived at Camp Goff outside of Sturgeon Bay after 8 o'clock and found that camping utensils of the cherry camp were not available to them so they had to eat in Sturgeon Bay restaurants.

The boys slept in one of the dormitories of the cherry pickers camp Friday night and were up early Saturday morning for a camp breakfast. They got an early start for the park and were met by Mr. Doolittle who showed them many of the reforestation projects. The boys saw little trees which had been raised from seed like seedling onions. They saw others which were six years old, five feet tall and three or four inches through the trunk. Mr. Doolittle answered questions which the boys asked.

Observation towers made all the points of interest visible. The boys were given maps of the park which showed all the trails and paths. They returned to Camp Goff for dinner and reached Appleton in time for supper.

INCORPORATE NEW CANNING FACTORY

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state by the Big Wolf Kraus company of Shiocton which has incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing, canning and selling sauerkraut and other farm and garden produce. The capital stock is $25,000. G. H. Lonkey, David Flanagan and W. L. Schroeder are the incorporators.

PLANT NEW VINES NEXT TO WALLS OF Y. M. C. A.

Vines which grew along the sides of the Y. M. C. A. building have been transferred to the wire fence that encloses the tennis courts. Boston ivy will take their place next to the building, since it clings more readily and will not be blown down by the wind. Boston ivy now is growing at the front of the building.

Two of the tennis courts have been fitted up for the season. A portion of the third court is occupied by building material and will therefore be used for "barnyard golf."

Watchful Eye Of Scout Firemen Will Hunt Out Cleanup Week Ignorers

Annual Inspection Is In Progress To Detect Fire Hazards In Residence Districts—Followup To Be Made

After the cleanup and pickup comes the checkup. It is all a part of an "upward" movement to keep "up" Appleton's reputation for beauty and cleanliness.

For ten days Appleton residents have been concentrating upon rubbish. Inasmuch as rubbish is to some extent a fire hazard, the fire squads of the Appleton boy scouts will have an opportunity to observe how far every one has cooperated in the movement to keep the city clean, healthful, beautiful and free from fire hazards.

To escape the reprimanding eyes of the youthful fire inspectors, there is only one alternative; rid the house, yard and outbuildings of all rubbish and place it in containers ready for hauling away by city employees on or after Wednesday.

A fire hazard checkup is made by the boy scout fire squads about three or four times a year. The next one will be sometime after cleanup week.

EACH HAS SECTION

Under the direction of Robert Currie, chief of the scout fire squads, the boys divide the city into sections. Each fire company takes two wards and each scout takes a certain number of blocks in the inspection tours. The scouts work under the guidance and supervision of Louis McGillan of the fire department.

Among the fire hazards looked for are piles of ashes against wooden buildings, oily rags, rubbish, paper and dry grass near buildings, defective tanks. Reports are turned into boy scout headquarters and a complete report is made to the fire department.

Checkup is only a part of the training of the scout fire squads. They have a regular course of instruction in firefighting imparted them at the fire station. After Chief G. P. McGillan has recuperated from his illness, the scouts will be given fire drills and will probably make a fire run. They made a short run last year with a part of the apparatus and scaled the ladders at the fire station.

EACH HAS BADGE

The organization consists of more than 30 members and is patterned after the regular fire department and each member wears a badge. It is divided into three companies with a captain and lieutenants in charge of each. The officers, besides Chief Currie, are Capt. Kenneth Schweger, Capt. Boyd Schweger, Capt. John Schiebler, Lieut. Reid Winsey, Lieut. Sterling Schmaiz, Lieut. Leshe Beavel and Lieut. Clarence Bohon, Capt.

Boyd Schweger's company is in charge of the First and Sixth wards; his brother is in charge of the Second and Fourth wards; Capt. Schiebler has the other two wards. A lieutenant is assigned to each ward.

The remainder of the personnel is as follows: Julian Bender, Frederick Rector, Leo Sollinger, Chester Agrell, Herbert Lutz, Harry Vaughn, William Meyer, John Schmeller, Charles Henderson, Wilmer Schlafer, Clarence Trentlage, William Jarvis, Alden Pedler, Julius Shapiro, Orwin Helzel, Adoysius Gage, Robert Rechner, Ray Versteegen, Roland Kuehl, Joseph Doerfer, Leo Schiebler, George Beck, Jr., Walter Fountain, Cuthbert Ryan, Henry Schuetter and Ralph Everetts.

WHISPERING SAGE

BY HARRY SINCLAIR DRAGO AND JOSEPH NOEL
COPYRIGHT, 1923 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

He did not stop to ask how she came there. He only saw the leaping flames, and guessed the intent of the black thing that bulked on the surface of the raft.

Nothing could save the dam. It was doomed! A minute or two, and it would be all over. Jumping to her rescue would not help. If he ran out on the dam both of them would be killed or swept away and drowned.

He called to Mercedes: but she barely moved her head. Blaze called again. "That voice!" It seemed to come from leagues away; a phantom voice!

Kildare saw that she did not move. He cried out again. The wind whipped the sound of it behind him. But the girl looked up. She saw him and raised her hands. Blaze jerked his head from his saddle-horn and ran to the very edge of the bank.

"Take off your skirt!" he cried, "and wet it and wrap it around you. Catch my rope when it drops."

Mercedes nodded her head. The raft was within ten feet of the dam as his reata began to play through his fingers.

Seconds—they are hours sometimes—were dawning as his rope circled lower and lower. There would never be time for another trial. He had to make it now! There was no room for a miss.

An instant—brief! Life seemed to stop. Kildare blinked his eyes to clear them of the film that blinded him. Seconds were moving at express-train speed; yet even so, meaningless, irrelevant thoughts presented themselves in their gathering. Nothing seemed hurried. He had thrown his rope, in quite its accustomed way. It leaped out. He watched it now. It was dropping. The rope was falling over them. It was at her waist. He was pulling then. It was subconscious effort.

A scream rose from Mercedes: she shot away from the raft. He could look down and see the water cascading over her as he dragged her through it.

He heard the raft bump the dam. Some one was calling: Chat or Melody, no doubt. A second in which to brace his feet and hand over hand he began paying in his reata, lifting her to safety. She was halfway to the top of the ragged wall when Kildare felt rather than heard a snap.

His hands tingled. He had been dragging his rope over the ledge using the rock for a leverage. One of the strands of the finely woven reata had given way—cut in two by the jagged quartz.

His arms trembled. There was nothing to do but risk the chance that the unraveling reata would hold. He leaned out over the water until Mercedes was a dead weight on him, and pulled. Another strand broke, but he had raised her to the top. His hands caught her arms; a last lift, and she was beside him.

Then it came, without warning—a trembling of the earth. Thunder rolled in his ears. The dam was gone. They were down, knocked flat. My Man went to his knees. Pieces of rock, from the size of a pea to big, jagged fragments of granite that would have killed had they struck, rained about them. Water splashed down in sheets.

Mercedes did not move. Kildare rolled her over and over. The girl's body was cold; her pulse seemed to have stopped. Blaze slapped her, and beat her with the flat of his hands. He continually raised her arms to expand her lungs.

He felt her stir, a second, and she opened her eyes. Mercedes refused to believe what she saw. She lifted her hand slowly and felt the man beside her. He was real then!

CHAPTER XXIX
THE CLASH OF WILLS

While Blaze knelt with Mercedes in his arms on the brink of the canon, the roaring below them grew in violence. Grinding, screeching, the rushing water was ripping the hoie, through which it was pouring, in an ever-widening gap. The concrete was still green. It has set well enough to hold back the placid water, but against this flood it was helpless. One block would give way, and bring his neighbors tumbling down with it. The titanic force, sweeping he caught them up as if they had been marbles and hurled them into the valley.

From the bank across the canon somebody called him. It was Melody's good old Melody.

"I tried to save the dam," Mercedes murmured slowly. "Basilio—he's down there."

"You trailed Esteban, eh?" She nodded.

"The little chief may be all right," Blaze lied, wondering how Esteban could have failed to think of his brother and sister. "The water will be spread out long before it gets to the hacienda."

Mercedes tried to sit up. "You're not hurt?" Kildare asked.

"Just tired—very tired, Blaze. What happened to Esteban now?"

"Let the others ask that. You keep still," he warned. "Someone's coming now. It'll be Acklin, too."

It was the Big Boss. Skip and a dozen others were with him. The fury of the man suggested the onrush of the angry waters through the gorge. At first he saw only Kildare.

"What did it?" he shouted. "A bomb?"

His quick-acting brain sensed an invasion of his empire that even the courts could not repair. He was off his horse in advance of his men and striding toward Blaze when he saw Mercedes.

"What's she doing here?" he belatedly asked, giving him time to answer, he yelled: "You saw her? What was she up to?"

Blaze got to his feet. "She was going to the best she could to save the dam," he drawled coolly.

Mercedes spoke for the first time. "I was too late," she half-whispered. "Too late to save even my little brother."

The men gathered close about her, hating on her words. Acklin felt himself outside the circle of sympathy. He turned and stared at the remains of the dam that had been his life's dream. Some one would pay for that!

The lake was almost empty. Two men waded their horses across it and circled around until they were up with the others. It was Brother Jones and Melody with their questions.

Skip produced a flask, and Blaze doled out the stimulant to the girl. Her face lost its whiteness. "Guess we better get you back to the Rancho now," he suggested.

Acklin overheard him. "This is a job for the sheriff," he snarled. "She's going to the Bull's Head."

The crowd caught the clash of wills. Blaze saw Melody. They exchanged a glance.

"You misunderstood me slightly," Kildare's tones were too sweet, too even. "I said that she was going home," he went on.

Acklin should have known better than to continue this, but he was blind with rage over his loss. He refused to be warned. He raised his hand to Skip.

"Do what I tell you," he cried. "Take her to the Bull's Head. I'm still givin' the orders here." He reached for his revolver.

Skip started to move but he took only a step. Kildare's guns covered the crowd.

"Throw up your hands, all of you!" he rasped out. "I'll bust the first one that moves. You got a horse Melody?" he asked.

"I've heard him called that," "Get her home then. I'm telling you. Don't look anywhere else."

Blaze turned to the girl. "You go with Melody. He'll get you to the Rancho."

The Big Boss hesitated. The girl was gone before Blaze spoke again. "All right boys. You can take them down," he said slowly. "Thanks for obliging that way."

He dropped his guns as he spoke to Acklin.

"I've worn myself thin for your outfit. Things have been going on that I didn't savvy. But I didn't ask any questions. I could quit if I didn't like it. I guess I'm through now. I suppose I'll be getting my pay in the morning."

Acklin glared at Kildare. His expression changed as he told him what Mercedes had done. The girl's daring won muttered approval from the men.

Acklin walked back and forth for a minute or two before answering. "You may be right," he growled at last. "I aim to find out though. If she wasn't in this deal, her brother was. She'd never been here, either, or else. He wasn't alone, either. I'll never believe that a kid like Esteban could make a bomb good enough to blow that wall out."

The big cowboy returned to his pacing back and forth, as indication that the incident was closed for the time being. The men stood about uneasily, wondering what they would do next. Brother Jones spoke to Blaze. Several others joined them.

With modesty peculiar to men of his type, Blaze said little of his rescue of Mercedes. Skip and the other boys were equally reticent in commenting on it, but they understood. It was the cowboy code.

Acklin had been drawn back to his scrutinizing of the wrecked wall. So far no definite plan of action had evolved in his mind. His foreman must have heard the explosion and must be on the way to his side. Looking across the canon, he saw a rider silhouetted against the sky. It was a first thought was that it was Morrow.

"Hello, there!" the other called. "That you Double A?"

It was Chet Devin. Acklin answered him.

"Come on over here," the man shouted. "I got the bird that did this trick."

"Who is he?" the Big Boss inquired.

"I don't know. He's hidin' between here and the cedars. He's badly wounded."

By the time they had made the descent to the valley and climbed up to the high plateau on which Chet waited, some of Morrow's men from the peak had arrived. Cash himself had not yet shown up. Acklin left Patterson behind to wait for him.

Leaving their horses when they neared the trees, the men spread out and began beating the brush. Morning in an unbroken line they advanced toward the spot that had been the shore of the lake. There had come within sight of it without discovering any one when a voice cried out to them: "Come on! I'm done."

They saw him then leaning against the trunk of a tree. It was Esteban. Acklin recognized him first.

"So it was you, eh?" he questioned. "I didn't think you would be," the boy answered with a grin.

Blaze came up at that. Esteban stared at him.

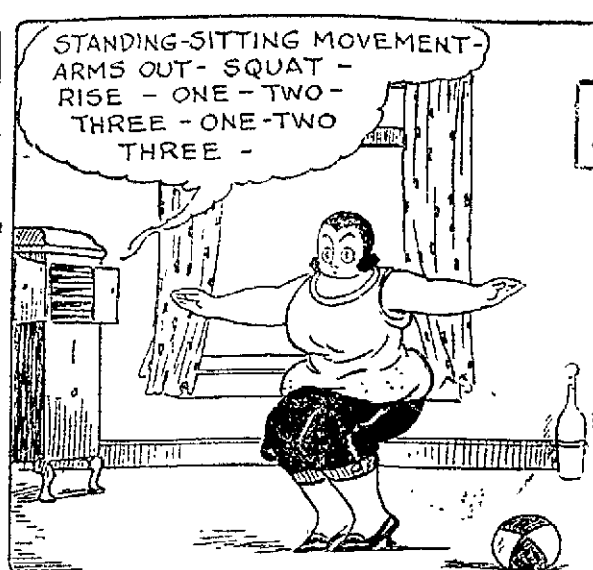

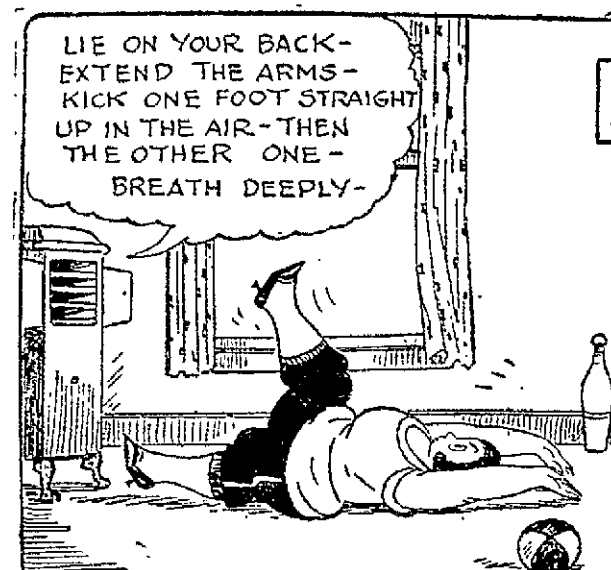

"Hello, Kildare," he smiled. The cowboy shook his head sadly. The thing he had feared had happened. The young fellow seemed to read his thoughts. His smile never deserted him, however.

"Toll me a smoke, will you?" he asked.

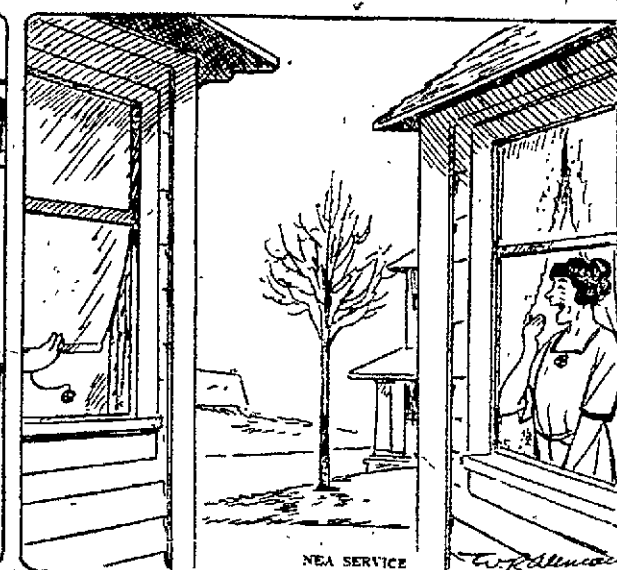

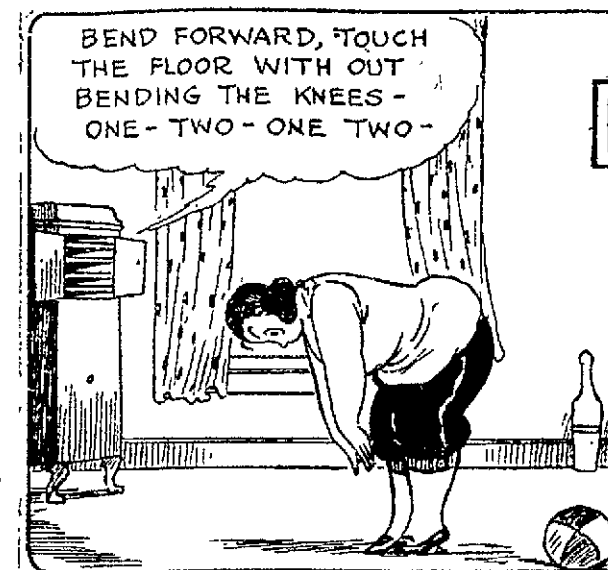

Blaze made a cigarette for him and put it in his mouth. By the light of "I'm going out this time, all right, condition."

LANE RELEASED TO ACCEPT WESTERN LEAGUE BERTH

Brautigan Dickering With Southerner For Next Sunday's Game

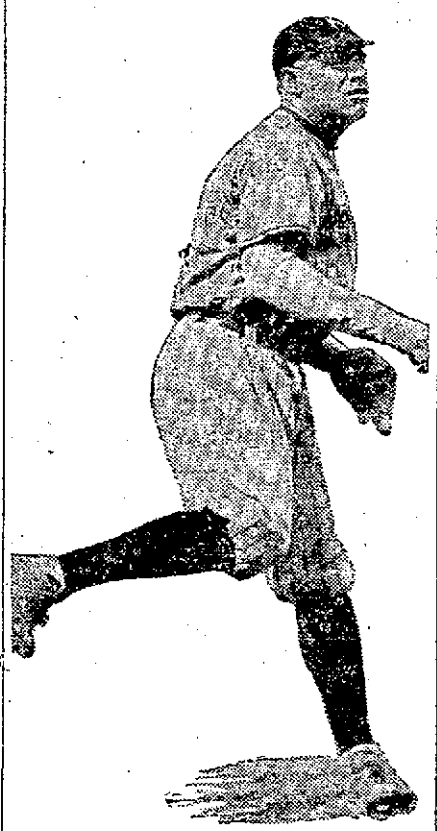

Lane Has Splendid Offer From Topeka Team—Bothered By Sore Arm Most Of This Spring

Leaves Club

"Nig" Lane, Appleton's hefty mound artist, has been given his release by Manager Brautigan to permit him to accept an offer from the Topeka team of the Western league. Lane will leave soon for his new berth and in the meantime Brautigan is lining up a new man for Sunday's game with Marinette. Menominee, of the state line city. Boss Brautigan is negotiating with a South Carolinian who is reputed to be a whiz on the hill. There is a possibility that he will take up the burden next weekend.

Lane has been bothered with a sore salary wing all spring and he welcomed the opportunity to go south where his arm can be boiled out. He received a splendid offer from the Western league team. The railroad fare for himself and Mrs. Lane is paid by the club and he will be paid $300 a month, which isn't so terribly bad for a couple of hours work each month.

Both Brautigan and Harry Sylvester, the playing mogul, are quite well satisfied with the present personnel of the squad. Sunday's game proved the boys can, but it is believed their fielding and base running will improve as the weather warms up. Aside from a new pitcher it is improbable that changes will be made in the squad before next Sunday.

BECKETT DEFEATS SMITH IN 17 ROUNDS

London—Joe Beckett Monday night knocked out Dick Smith in the seventeenth round of a bout for the heavy-weight championship of England.

Beckett started the fight by forcing Smith around the ring with the object of tiring out the older man. There were those among the spectators who believed Smith would not be able to last ten rounds. Not only did Smith hold Beckett well in hand, however, but in the tenth he landed three terrific rights to Beckett's jaw and at the going had him groggy.

Smith was fighting hard in the eleventh, but it was apparent he was fast tiring. He conserved his strength, however, and continued to hold his advantage through the fifteenth round. In the sixteenth Beckett began to force the pace. It was evident from the ringside that he was seeking an opening for a knockout.

In the seventeenth, although Smith continued cautious, Beckett caught him with a right flush to the jaw. Smith's knees sagged. He tried to shake off the effects of the blow, but Beckett, seeking his advantage, stepped back and, taking measure, again swung a right to the jaw, and Smith fell to the canvas and was counted out.

INTERCLASS BASEBALL AT LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

Monday afternoon witnessed the beginning of a series of interclass baseball games at Appleton high school, when the seniors played the Junior nine at Jones park, and the Sophomores the freshmen at Brandt's park. Hereafter, up to May 25, three games a week are to be played on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of each week, each class to play every other class twice.

At Monday's games the older boys won in each instance, the seniors taking the Juniors down by a score of 9 to 1, and the sophomores walloping the freshmen to the tune of 16 to 3.

Batteries: Seniors—Tappert and Ashman; Juniors—Hillman and Vadsoworth; sophomores—Lutz and Fischer; freshmen—Reck and Boehme.

Firpo Too Good For Jess But Outclassed By Jack

Experts Figure South American Will Whip Willard When They Meet

New York—Although Jess Willard stopped Floyd Johnson, the coldest jury of ringside skeptics who make a profession of describing prize fights and judging the abilities of fighters, hold out no hope for Willard in his attempt to regain the heavyweight championship. Most of the writers of boxing who covered Saturday's big bouts believe Luis Angelo Firpo will defeat Willard if they meet, as it is now planned to have them meet, on June 30. A summary of their opinions follows:

Grantland Rice, sports editor, New York Tribune—"Firpo looked more impressive than ever. Willard will have to come still further back to stop his wild swinging. Saturday's fight seems to be Dempsey's most dangerous opponent—the one man who might bring down even the champion."

Henry L. Farrell, sports editor, United Press—"Against Dempsey Willard wouldn't have a chance. Age didn't best youth. Just happens that one old man was too big and strong for one light hitting young man."

James Crisworthy, sports editor, New York News—"Fighting Firpo is no job for a man past 40. Nothing can stop Firpo. When he hits, something has to fall."

Hypo Igoe, New York World—"Willard simply sufficed the little man as any freckle-faced bully would have done. I can't believe that against Firpo he could have a chance."

W. O. McGeehan, sports editor, New York Herald—"Willard is a powerful, slow hitter. He flouted the old man with the scythe this time, but he should not attempt his fate too much."

George Underwood, New York Telegram—"Jess Willard knows he didn't come back. The opening game will be of the first note of Willard's swan song."

New York Times—"Willard has insurmountable advantages over a smaller rival who lacked decisive punching ability. He is slow and defenseless."

Regis Welsh, sports editor, Pittsburgh Post—"Willard is so slow he has to block with his chin. Harmless to do when fighting Johnson; fatal when fighting Firpo or Dempsey."

Westbrook Pegler, sports editor, United Press—"No slow moving, wide open fighter is going to beat Jack Dempsey. Either Willard or Firpo is strong enough to stop him with a punch on the chin. But so could Dempsey stop either of them the same way. And Dempsey would hit first."

COBB'S STRATEGY FAILS AND YANKS WIN IN TWELFTH

New York Crashes Out Eight Runs In Final Stanza

Detroit—After having a seven run lead erased, forcing the game into extra innings, New York fell on Sylvester Johnson's offerings in the twelfth, scored eight runs and defeated Detroit, 16 to 11, on Monday.

Cobb's strategy in removing Cole in the twelfth when two men were on bases and sending Johnson, a right hander to replace him, proved disastrous. Pipp's home run with the bases loaded was one of the five hits the Yankees made off Johnson.

Shawkey pitched well until the seventh, when a walk and three singles netted three runs. The Tigers five runs that tied the score in the ninth resulted from doubles by Pratt, Blue and Jones, singles by Cobb and Bessler and a base on balls to Heilmann. Score: New York 16 4 0 0 2 0 1 1 0 0 0 8—16 Detroit 11 0 0 0 0 0 3 0 5 0 0 3—11 Batteries—Bush, Shawkey and Schang; Johnson, Cole, Olsen and Bessler.

INDIANS BEAT JOHNSON Cleveland—The Cleveland Indians hopped on Walter Johnson in the first inning and scored enough runs to beat Washington, 6 to 3. Three double plays cut down Cleveland's score in the later innings. Uble was effective except in the third and fourth innings. Score: Washington 6 0 1 2 0 0 0 0—6 Cleveland 3 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—3 Batteries—Johnson and Rucl; Uble and Myatt.

MAKES BLANK SOX Chicago—Philadelphia bunched five of its hits in the fourth and seventh innings, behind erratic fielding on the part of McMillan and Faber, and easily shut out Chicago, 9 to 0. Chicago was unable to solve Hosty's delivery and were held to six scattered hits. Philadelphia 9 0 0 5 0 0 4 0—9 Chicago 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 Batteries—Hosty and Perkins; Faber and Graham and Schalk and Borman.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Muggsy McGraw is said to be looking around for a couple of more pitchers, who can turn in wins at regular intervals. So far as we can discover, there doesn't seem to be an awful lot wrong with the Giant's hurling staff as it now stands. Unless something happens before long, the New York club will have such a firm hold on first place in the National league pennant chase that the interest lag. Instead of McGraw getting a couple of more mound artists, we think he should have a couple of his box-men taken away from him in order to make things a bit more even up.

A report from New York has it that Jess Willard and Louis Firpo may exchange punches in Gotham on June 30. Tex Rickard wants to stage the fight. Firpo is willing to fight anybody and nothing would please him better than to get a crack at the towering Willard. A scrap between these two big fellows would attract a big crowd and the promoters can well afford to offer each of the scrappers a nice piece of dough for performance.

It is said that Otto Borchert is chewing nails these days. His Brewers are going from bad to worse on the road and victories for the Cream City entry in the A. A. flag hunt are few and far between. The Brewers' hurling staff is short of pitchers and the outfield isn't hitting a lick. About the only bright spot on the horizon is King Lear's brilliant work with the stick.

One of the secrets of Detroit's success in the American league this season is the fact that the Cobblers are getting a better brand of pitching than had been figured on. Take Dauss for instance. In past seasons he was considered an average box-man. So far this season he has won five straight games and what's more appears to be going better every time he steps into the box.

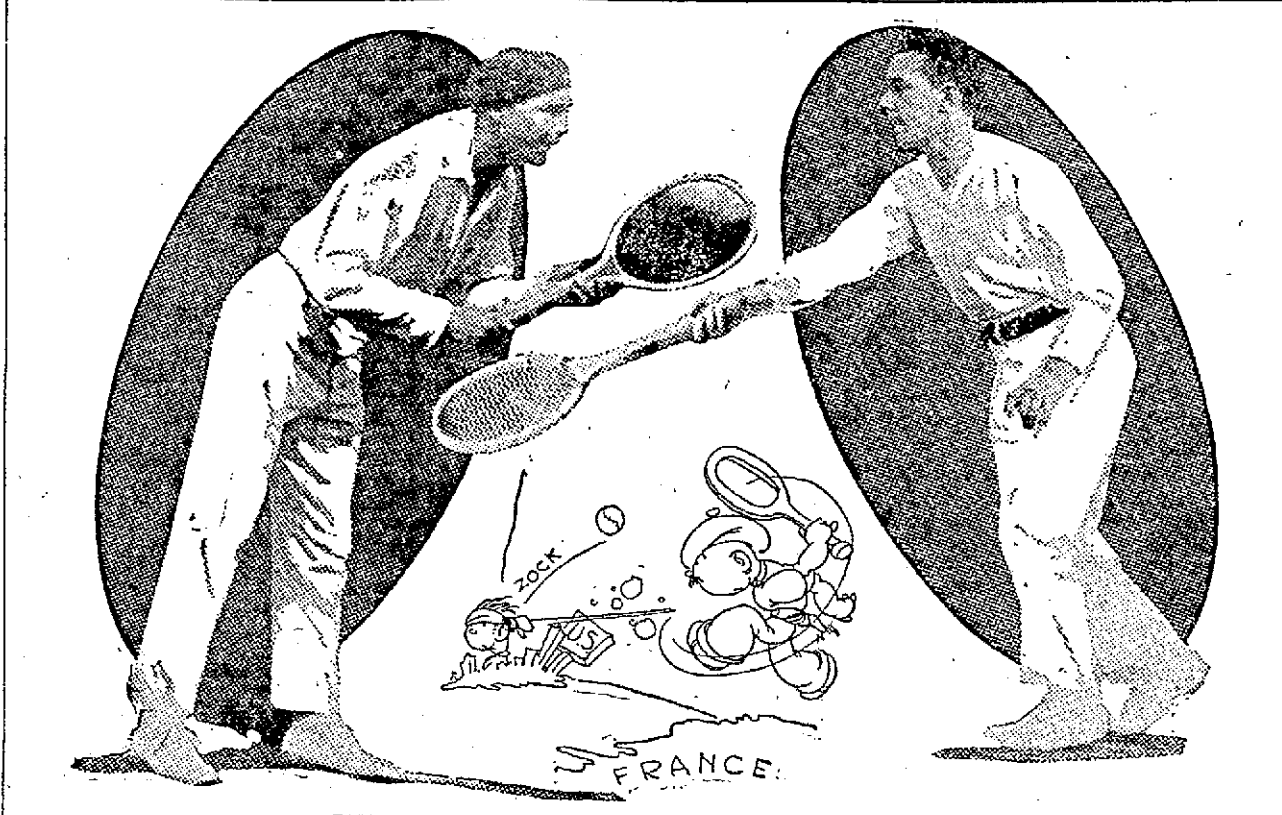

SCIBES DISAGREE ON FIGHT VERDICT

By Associated Press

Milwaukee—Sporting writers differed in their award of the verdict in the 10-round, no decision boxing bout Monday night between Joey Fox, champion featherweight of England, and Ernie Goetzman, California youngster, one writer favoring Fox, another Goetzman and a third calling the bout a draw. The contest was a tame affair. Goetzman was the aggressor but Fox appeared more clever. No damage was done.

In the preliminaries, Roy Conley, welterweight, of Wichita, Kansas, defeated Joe Gans of St. Paul, in 10 rounds, scoring two knockdowns in the early rounds. Jack Schoendorf, Milwaukee welter, outboxed Chuck Lambert of St. Paul in 10 rounds.

French Entries In Tennis Tourney

The tennis team that will represent France in Davis cup play this year will be the youngest combination in the famous international matches. Two of the players certain to be selected are Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra. The other member of the trio is still in doubt, but he will be one of the younger players.

Borotra, who will be the veteran of the trio, is only 23 years old. However, he is a seasoned veteran and one of the most brilliant players in France.

Cochet, who made such an impressive showing in the states last year, has just passed the 20 year mark. The French look for Cochet to be one of the stars of the coming matches.

While the official designation of the team will not be made until April 17, it is a certainty that Borotra will be selected.

FOND DU LAC NET BALL TEAM COMING

Two Y. M. C. A. Volleyball Teams Are To Be Pitted Against Invaders

Appleton volleyball players will have an opportunity Wednesday night to even up the score with Fond du Lac's Y. M. C. A. teams. Fondy will send two squads here for a series of games. One of the teams is made of Old Timers who will tackle the Ancients' squad of the local institution.

Appleton's teams were defeated in their invasion of Fond du Lac two weeks ago, both teams losing to the Fountain City men.

Fond du Lac's squads will come to Appleton by automobile and will be entertained at the Y. M. C. A. while here. The games are to start at 7:30 in the evening.

Big League Teams Lose Many Games To Minors

New York—One of the remarkable features of the spring training trip of the major league clubs was the unusually large number of defeats suffered at the hands of minor league teams.

On the Pacific coast, the teams of that organization took all kinds of liberties with the Chicago Cubs who trained at Catalina Island, Calif.

The New Orleans club of the Southern association took the Cleveland, New York and St. Louis clubs of the American league into camp a number of times.

On the showing made by the Pelicans against the major league clubs who have invaded New Orleans, the

ANCIENT BABE SETS DOWN GIANTS, 4 TO 1

Pirate Veteran Holds New York To Six Safe Bingles

New York—The veteran Babe Adams stopped the New York Giants on Monday, Pittsburgh winning the second game of the series 4 to 1. Ned York's only run was a homer by Earl Smith. Pittsburgh bunched seven of its eight hits off Ned in the first and seventh innings, when it did all its scoring. Score: Pittsburgh 4 2 0 0 0 2 0 0—7 New York 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1 Batteries—Adams and Schmidt; Neft Jonnard and Smith.

CARDS WALLOP BRAVES Boston—St. Louis hit Benton and Genewich hard on Monday, getting twelve hits, including homers to the flag pole in deep right center by Myers and Smith, and defeated Boston, 7 to 1. Score: St. Louis 7 0 2 1 3 1 0 0—7 Boston 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1 Batteries—Pfeffer and Ainsmith; Benton, Genewich, Cruise Fillingim and O'Neil.

RALLY WINS FOR DODGERS Brooklyn—Brooklyn made it two out of the first three in the series with the Chicago Cubs by winning on Monday 6 to 3. Four hits for three runs in the first inning decided the issue. Johnston bounced a homer into the left field bleachers in the seventh. Ray French, from the Pacific Coast league, played his first game at short for Brooklyn, Johnson going to second.

Chicago 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 1—3 Brooklyn 3 0 0 1 0 2 0 4—6 Batteries—Aldridge and Harnett; Cadore and Taylor.

RINLEY WINS DUEL Philadelphia—Cincinnati took the second game of the series from Philadelphia on Monday, 7 to 3. The game was a pitchers' battle between Joppa Rinley and Ralph Read, with the local twirler weakening in the closing inning. Roush robbed Lee of a home run, while Molan also made a sensational catch in the ninth. Score: Cincinnati 7 0 0 0 2 1 0 3—7 Philadelphia 3 0 0 1 0 0 1 3—3 Batteries—Rinley and Wingo; Head and Henline.

Yanks Show Surprising Strength Against First String Teams Of League

Senators, Who Have Been Helping Yanks In First Place, Ran Into Snag At Cleveland—Cubs Are Slipping Rapidly

By Associated Press

Chicago—The New York Yankees have gone after the two strongest teams of the American league in the west with a vim that has bewildered those who saw them in their new stadium.

Taking Monday's game from Detroit 16 to 11, in an inning nightmare the Yankees ran the string of their invasion to four victories and one defeat—two of the wins over Cleveland and one loss to Detroit from which they have taken the other two games.

Washington, a tough customer in the stadium, aided the Yanks last week holding off the Tigers while the Yanks were trimming Cleveland, but were not so helpful while the Yanks were beating the jungle tribe. Walter Johnson had an off day Monday and the Senators again were in the lead, 5 to 3. By strapping the White Sox, 9 to 0, Philadelphia passed into third place above the Tigers who occupied second a part of last week.

Babe Adams the Pariah of the Pirates made a gesture toward celebrating his fortieth birthday, which comes this week at the Polo Grounds by using his head against New York after his curve, fast ball and control were lost, winning 4 to 1 by allowing only six hits and three passes. Brooklyn shifted its lineup and the new batting order bested the Cubs 6 to 3. Andy High and Leon Olson were withdrawn from the infield and that position filled out with Fournier at first, Johnston at second, French, the California $10,000 find at short, and McCarren at third. Cincinnati passed the drooping Cubs and went into the first division by beating Philadelphia 7 to 3, while St. Louis batted hard and downed the Braves 7 to 1.

Rain caused postponement of the Boston-St. Louis American league game.

Charley Hollocher's return to the game instilled more pep and confidence into the Cubs.

Frank Brower and Louis Guisto will alternate at first base for the Cleveland Indians from now on, Manager This Speaker announced.

Phil Ball, president of the St. Louis Americans holds the opinion that his star first baseman, Sisler, will have recovered sufficiently to return within a few weeks. Almost every day Sisler sits in the grandstand with his eyes covered with dark glasses watching his companions play.

Charley Grimm of the Pirates ran his string of safe hitting in consecutive games to 24.

balls interferes with his stance has a perfect right to ask that the ball be temporarily removed. After the other ball is played it shall be placed as near as possible to the place where it lay.

Two players are using the same make ball. One player places a special mark on the ball he is using so as to be able to differentiate between the two. Getting onto the green, both balls lie close together and it is impossible to see the mark without lifting the balls. Is such a thing permissible in order to determine the right ball?

For the purpose of identification a player may lift and carefully replace his ball in the presence of the player with whom he is competing.

Questions

1. When is the batsman automatically out on strikes?
2. What happens when the batsman strikes at a ball, but misses and the ball touches some part of his person?
3. What is the proper ruling when the batsman interferes with the catcher when a runner is stealing second?
4. What happens when the catcher interferes with the batsman about to strike at a ball?
5. What is the rule when a batsman steps from one batsman's box to the other while the pitcher is in the act of delivering the ball?

Answers

1. The batsman is automatically out on strikes if first base be occupied by a base runner, and the third strike be called, unless two men are already out.
2. The ball becomes dead and no runners can advance on such a play.
3. The batsman is out if he interferes with the catcher trying to get a man stealing second. The runner returns to his original base, which is first.
4. The batsman is entitled to first base if the catcher interferes with him when about to strike at a ball.
5. The batsman is out if he steps from one box to the other while the pitcher is in the act of delivering the ball.

BONDS, NURSE AND INSPECTOR JOB UP FOR COUNCIL VOTE

Busy Session Will Be Held Wednesday Evening At City Hall

Several weighty affairs will demand the attention of the city council when it meets in the city hall at 7:30 Wednesday evening. The most important item of business will be the introduction of the initial resolution authorizing the council to sell $250,000 worth of additional municipal bonds to finance the construction of two junior high schools. The resolution will specify the rate of interest, the time of payments and the amount of installments.

The finance committee has had referred to it the matter of engaging a city public health nurse, for which 54 organizations petitioned at the last council meeting. It is expected that a delegation will be present to urge the issue.

A building inspector to handle the work of issuing building permits and making the necessary inspection will probably be appointed. Recommendation of candidates is expected to be made by the city plan commission to whom the applications have been referred.

QUESTION MOTIVE FOR RAILROAD CONFERENCE

By Associated Press
Chicago—The purpose of the call for a national transportation conference in Chicago recently issued by Senator LaFollette and other "Progressives" in congress and a number of governors was questioned by P. W. Sargent, general solicitor for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad in an address before the Illinois Grain Dealers' association.

Mr. Sargent declared that some of the men signing the call for the conference "have been chiefly responsible for infaming the public mind against constructive measures that would produce efficiency in operation and reduction in rates."

DEATHS

MRS. ANNA C. BERGACKER
Mrs. Anna C. Bergacker, 52, wife of W. J. Bergacker, 330 North-st., died at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning at Thoma Clark hospital, Neenah, following an operation. She was born in Holland and came direct to Appleton in 1905. She is survived by her widower and five children. Jacob, Mrs. Robert Clack, Jeanette, Wynand, Jr., Anna C. Appleton; her mother, one brother and one sister in Holland; seven grandchildren. The funeral will be announced later.

Will Grade Plat

Frank Bartz has been awarded the contract for grading the streets of Parkway, H. G. Thomas' new plat, second of Second-ave. The plat, with the boulevard running through the center, contains more than two miles of streets. More than 1,000 walnut trees have just been set out.

TO RELIEVE PAIN AND BACKACHE

Women May Depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I had heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound that when I realized I needed to take something to relieve my pains and backache, and to help build me up I began to take that. I had been sick off and on for years and barely weighed a hundred pounds, but now I have had such good results that I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to every one."—Mrs. J. J. BIEBER, 3939 18th Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn.

Finds a True Friend

"Every woman who values her health should be proud to have a true friend like the Vegetable Compound," says Mrs. W. E. Shaw, 327 Walnut Street, Chicago, Illinois. "I had female weakness so badly that I could not stand on my feet. Half of my time was spent in bed and I had pains in my back which were unbearable. I tried everything I could think of to help myself and when a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began taking it at once. I recommend it without hesitation."

SEYMOUR FAVORS LEGION COUNCIL

Post Ratifies County Constitution And Invites Next Meeting

Robert Krause post of the American legion, located at Seymour, was the second to approve the constitution of the proposed county legion council.

At Appleton, many members of Oney Johnston post of the legion, attended the meeting. The constitution and the purpose of the council were explained. The affirmative vote followed. Delegates to the council also were elected.

The Appleton delegation included Henry J. Pettigrew, post commander, Joseph Marston, Jr., Carleton and Austin Saecker, John E. Hantschel, Alfred C. Bosser, L. Hugo Keller, Don C. Dickinson and James H. Balliet.

DOCTOR HURT WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

Three more weekend automobile accidents have been revealed, one of which was responsible for injuries to Dr. C. C. Delmarcelle of Neenah.

Two gasoline pumps, a mail box, a lubricating oil tank and a part of the curb in front of the store of Jacob J. Demerath, Kimberly, were broken at 2 o'clock Monday morning by Joseph Dressing, Route 1, Little Chute when he appeared to have fallen asleep at the steering wheel. The radiator and front axle of his own car were damaged.

Minor injuries were suffered by Dr. C. C. Delmarcelle of Neenah when his automobile was struck by a Chicago and Northwestern train at McCarty crossing on state trunk highway 15, north of Kaukauna, Sunday afternoon. The machine was badly damaged. Dr. Delmarcelle suffered slight bruises and a side wound. He was able to attend to his practice on Monday.

While driving on highway 16 between Anglica and Green Bay Sunday afternoon W. D. Schlafli came upon a Ford car in the ditch and a Dodge car nearby. Both were badly damaged and were surrounded by a crowd of people who were not informed as to the details of the accident.

BUILDING PERMIT AUTHORIZED FOR MASONIC TEMPLE

City Also Grants Permission To Build Standard Oil Filling Depot

Construction of the proposed Masonic temple is the first large project for which a building permit has been issued. Contractors who will build the stone structure costing approximately $225,000 are C. R. Meyer & Sons company, of Oshkosh, who are also the contractors for the Lawest bridge.

Registering of the Masonic temple project swells the total amount of money for work authorized to date well past the half million dollar mark, or $622,654.

Among the permits issued Monday is that for the erection of a service station by the Standard Oil Co. The service station will be of red brick material and will be located at College-ave and Richmond-st. Following are the latest permits to be issued:

Masonic lodges, temple, College-ave and Drew-st.

$46,000 GOING INTO NEW LONDON TELEPHONE PLANT

Quinlan Explains Program To Rotarians At Luncheon Monday

In an address before New London Rotary club at its luncheon Monday noon, J. T. Quinlan, district manager of the Wisconsin Telephone company, informed members that the improvements about to be started at New London will represent an expenditure of $46,000, and will make the exchange second to none in the state.

"The people of New London have given the company fine support," said the district manager, "and it is greatly appreciated. We realize our two major responsibilities, first, to furnish adequate telephone service to the public and, second, an adequate return to those who invest their labor and money in the business."

"For the last ten years, the New London gain in subscribers has been 54.4 per cent; in number of operators employed, 114 per cent; in calls per day, 143 per cent; in number of toll calls per day, 178 per cent. The increase in office rental alone under the improvements will represent an increase of 325 per cent. We hope to have all the improvements finished before January, 1924."

NEED GOOD PLANTS
"Utility companies are the agencies around which and upon which modern civilization, business and commerce are built," said the speaker, "They render a fundamental service. It is a public service because it serves all the public directly or indirectly. You don't want weak, crippled and bankrupt concerns. You want strong, dependable, on-the-job, progressive and growing utilities."

"The same yardstick cannot be used in measuring so-called 'profits' in our business as is used in industrial corporations. We have no fat, prosperous years, with excess profits, to fill the valleys of lean years, neither do we extend the property or build up the business with excess profits as some industrial corporations can do."

"As an example, this year extensions and additions to the plant will cost the Bell system $150,000,000. This amount and more will be necessary in the next four years."

SHOULD SAY THANKS
"Your good will and cooperation mean a great deal to this business of ours or any other utility business, and the greatest incentive for a gifted service that is active and dependable, having behind it every pound of available energy, is appreciation. This is the greatest reward for service. Money can't do it. There is no question in my mind but that an occasional expression of appreciation by the people who are being served will mean a great deal for improved service, because it puts real life and humanity into the business."

"Occasionally when we receive a letter from a subscriber expressing appreciation for some unusual courtesy extended by one of our people, the letter is copied and sent along to the various departments and is published in the 'Bell News' and is a thing that we are all proud to receive and are happy about."

MARVELOUS GROWTH
"The first exchange was opened in Boston in 1877 with five stations, and the first commercial exchange was opened in New Haven, Conn., the same year with eight stations. Today there are 70,000 such exchanges in cities, towns and rural communities from the Atlantic to the Pacific, representing 12,600,000 telephones, 9,000,000 owned by the Bell Telephone company. The balance, representing 9,000 connecting companies and 26,000 rural lines, is connected with the Bell system. The average daily local calls total 30,000,000 and that of toll lines, 1,250,000."

"The number of employees in 1920 was 37,000. At the present time the number is 237,000. Approximately 100,000 of the 237,000 are operators. A New York-San Francisco line represents 13,600 miles of wire and 130,000 poles. An aerial cable from New York to Chicago that has been under construction for three years and will take another year to complete will, when finished, represent an expenditure of $35,000,000. The plant investment of the Bell system at present represents $1,550,000,000."

"In 1921 alone there was added to the plant in extension $150,000,000. This amount expended in one year represented the entire investment from the starting point up to 1900. There is paid out annually in wages, $264,000,000."

START SOUTH END OF LAKE BRIDGE

Preparation for the building of Lawrence bridge was begun Monday by C. R. Meyer & Sons company of Oshkosh. Hauling of tools and other construction apparatus is now in progress. The first work will be that of building the abutments. The contractors will start on the south side of the proposed bridge.

W. J. Kelsh will be in charge of the construction, as he will also supervise the construction of the Masonic temple, for which C. R. Meyer & Sons company also has the contract. Mr. Kelsh has supervised various projects of the Oshkosh contracting firm here for several years.

Prof. H. C. Cooley of Lawrence college has sold his home on 811 Tonka st. to R. M. Hadley of Kaukauna for a private consideration. Prof. Cooley expects to leave Appleton at the close of the school year.

Just received another shipment of Fancy Early Rose Seed Potatoes.

11 Patriotic Persons Are Called Upon To Complete The Legion Graves Fund

Appleton, Almost Within Its Goal Of $200, Suddenly Lagged—Your Gift Must Be Made By Wednesday Night

Perhaps you thought the other fellow would give a dollar or two to make up the $13 balance asked for the American Legion's perpetual graves endowment fund of $200, and that you would not need to contribute. If that is true, too many people thought the same thing. The Post-Crescent asked 13 people to give one dollar each so the fund could be completed by Tuesday night. Two dollars was all that came from the appeal, leaving eleven dollars still to be raised.

Appleton patriots, don't fail this splendid cause when it is so near the finish! Don't wait for the other fellow! You ought to give something if you haven't done so already, no matter how small the amount. The Post-Crescent under took this task believing the public would respond eagerly to a plan to decorate overseas graves and the local legion burial plot for all time to come through the national campaign now in progress. The paper wants to hand the legion officials the full $200, and it would be a blot on Appleton's spirit of loyalty if the check amounted to only $189.

Wednesday is the last day gifts will be received. The fund will be closed up tomorrow and the legion presented with whatever is given. Please leave your gift at the Post-Crescent office at once or send your check to the Legion Graves Fund.

LANGMAN IS HURT BY RUNAWAY TEAM

Henry Langman, 31, of 372 Eldorado st., driver for Joseph Ullman sales stables, was injured in a runaway Monday. The young team of horses he was driving became frightened by some object and broke away, throwing the driver to the road at Second-ave and State-st. He was conveyed by the police ambulance to the office of a surgeon where an examination showed that he had suffered injuries to his left hip and shoulder and the right side of his chest. The injuries were not serious. The team began its flight from Meade and North-sts.

Auto Hits Tree
A Locust-st tree nearly five inches in diameter was broken off near the ground Monday by an automobile which barked the trunk nearly to the limbs. The indications are the driver, who was not identified, was greatly exceeding the speed limit.

Summer Shoes -for- Youngsters

Almost every time a child needs new shoes it needs a change of last, for children's feet change rapidly during their growing years.

And extraordinary care must be taken at each fitting to be sure that soft, yielding bones are not forced out of their natural position, but are guided in their correct development.

The thoughtful attention that we give to fitting children's shoes is ably seconded by our selection of styles to please little folks, and qualities that will wear faithfully.

The APOLLO

THERE is no accounting for the magic of music. It starts a man to dreaming, a woman to weeping, a child to dancing. The immediate response to a given piece varies with every listener. It is there for you to get out of it what you will.

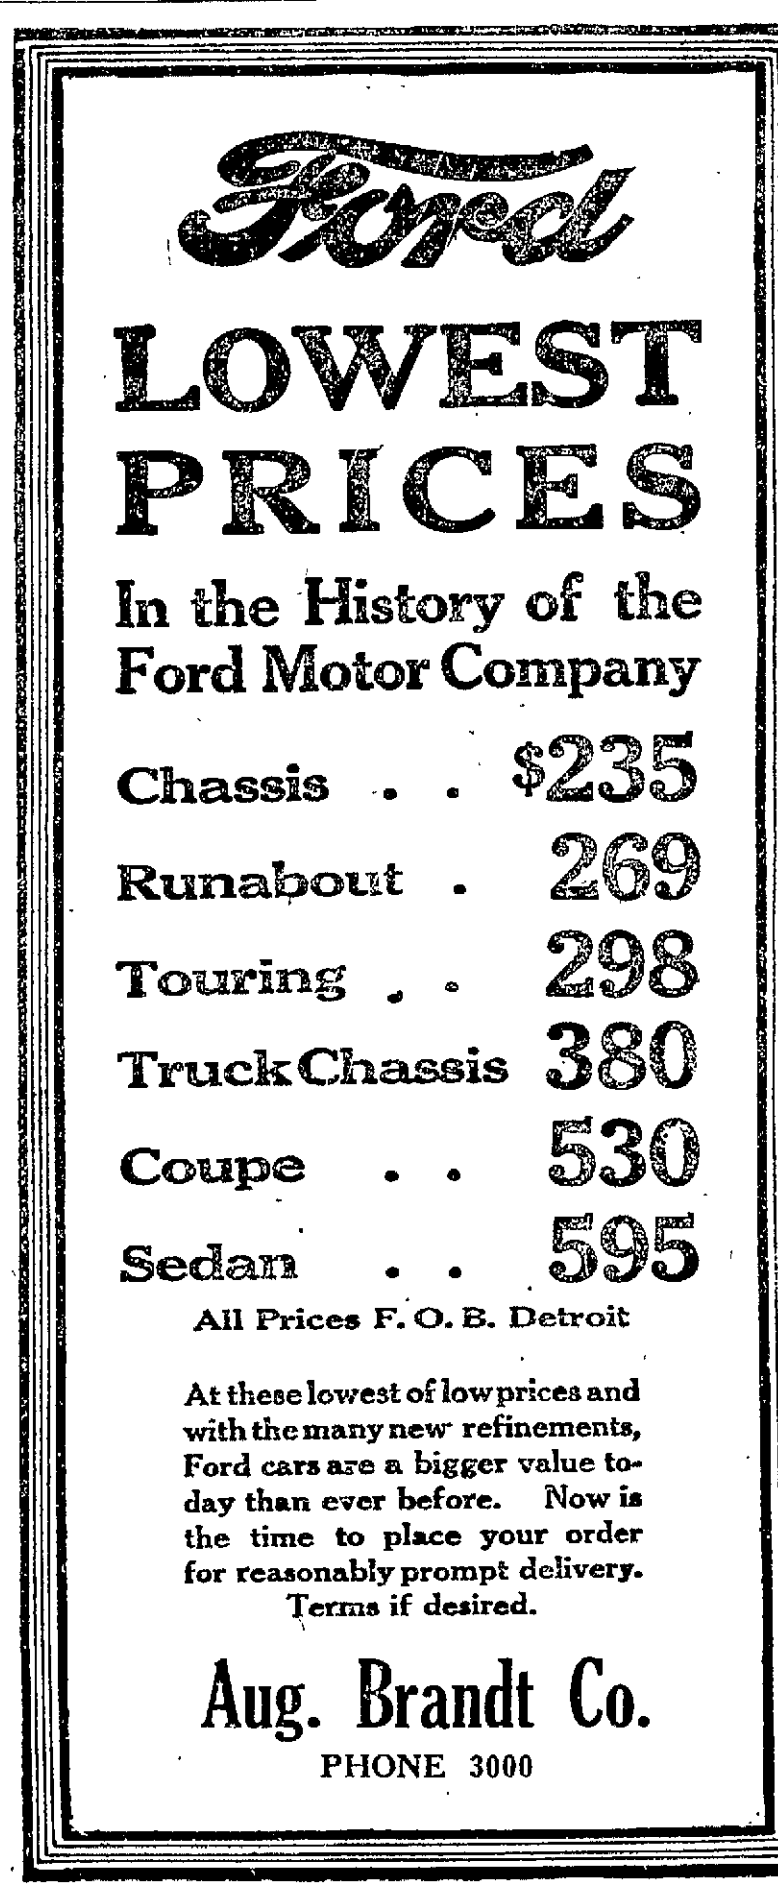

But the thrill lies in the tone. If the tone is dull and lifeless, or if it loses its vitality when reproduced, you feel no answering thrill. The Magic of Music is not there! But the APOLLO supplies the tone with a thrill—a Living Tone.

Come In Let us play the APOLLO for you without obligation

Great pianists like to play on it. Paderewski, Hofmann, Bauer, Strakosky-Ryder can hear on The APOLLO their own playing faithfully reproduced with all their individuality of tone and interpretation.

The APOLLO is made in conventional and art designs from $750 to $5000
